SUN'S POSITION

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the zone in which the Sun expresses itself most, and the quality shows more details of that Sun. The zodiac sign adds the rest of the details. The whole picture represents what motivates you to express yourself.

Fuel: The element is the fuel for the Sun.

Zodiac traits: these are the traits you want to develop in yourself. You want your inner hero to perfect such qualities.

The houses ruled by the Sun or of which it is almuten show the path to your authentic self and the elements that need to be embodied to achieve greater authenticity. It is important that you are honest with yourself and honest with others in these areas! These areas can recharge your batteries.

The house that the Sun occupies is the place where your vitality and your hero are expressed. This is where you demonstrate your integrity and authenticity (or feel their lack most). This is where you want to express yourself most strongly. You use the resources of this house, and if you use them excessively, the Ruler of this house will start to react to it and force the battery to charge.

Ruler & Mooltrikona: Leo Exaltation: Aries

Detriment: Aquarius Fall: Libra

DIGNITIES:

I rule Leo which is fully focused on the task of expressing its "authentic self" and sharing my warmth. Leo values life and wants to enjoy it to the fullest. Loves creativity and vitality.

Aquarius is in detriment because its role is not to focus on its own life, but to build an ideology for others. Aquarius expresses the need to serve society and searches for itself in a world full of diversity.

I am in exaltation in Aries and this sign tends to express my energy extremely creatively. He focuses strongly on himself, has great vitality and the need to constantly initiate something. Always on the move...

I am in fall in Libra and that's where I lose myself the most. I do it for the sake of relationships and partnerships. I open myself to other people, compromises and agreements, but then my original creation changes.

THE POSITION OF THE SUN SHOWS:

- Your authentic path and path to self-realization.
- Zodiac features that you want to develop in yourself.
- The types of energies you strive for and want to express.
- How you want to develop your character.
- What is your spirit like and what is your purpose.
- The quality of your individual being and the path to unite with the Self.
- The uniqueness of your consciousness. Special gifts.
- Personal standards of integrity that are individual and consistent only with you. They are not always logical, but you always feel whether you are coherent with yourself. Integrity allows you to leave the Kingdom of Victimhood.
- The Essence of Your Being. The Call of Your Spirit.
- Loyalty, honesty and authentic self-expression.
- The role your spirit will play in this life in this world.
- Your unique life path.
- A way in which you can gain full life energy and feel fulfilled.
- The need for honesty towards yourself and others.
- Energies that illuminate your sense of self.
- The core of your identity. Your spiritual identity.
- The way to discover and reveal yourself.

SELF-ACTUALIZATION

Know that there is a beautiful, golden path for every being living their life. It is determined by the Sun, which wants you to shine with its unique light - its unique quality. To achieve the highest need of Maslov's pyramid (self-actualization), you need to discover what is consistent with you and what is not. The universe and the people will test your integrity. Allow yourself to hear your own call and follow the lead! Your integrity will allow you to leave the Kingdom of Victimhood and fully open to the Kingdom of the Creator. Your standards of integrity will change as you age. It's normal! Trust the voice that comes from your heart. The more you deny your own integrity, the more your consciousness, life energy and vibration level decreases. The sun provides more vital energy as long as you follow the path that you truly love. Otherwise you will feel burnt out. If you resist your true path, life will seem like a tiring, depressing journey. This way experiences make you tired you and you don't even see the point in your life. It looks as if you were keeping yourself in a cage of limited beliefs, beaten ancestral paths, etc. This way you turn off your light. The Sun is the last personal planet to become fully activated. All other planets can hinder the Sun's self-actualisation and must be worked through to fully open to your luminous potential. The sun brings adventure and a wonderful life where the world gives you everything you need. Keep in mind that You are here to live the life of your dreams, not something less. If you deny the chance of doing this, do not be surprised of loosing your power.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE SUN'S POSITION:

- What experiences give you life energy, increase your vitality and vibration?
- What kind of person do you feel you want to become? What qualities do you want to strengthen in yourself? Which traits do you want to get rid of?
- What life experiences make it easier and harder for you to become your authentic self?
- In what situations do you stay authentic to yourself?
- What kinds of experiences do you need to connect with your true self?
- What types of experiences make it difficult for you to connect with your authentic Self?
- How do you express your authentic Self?
- What criteria do you use to judge honesty towards yourself? What is your internal integrity built on?
- What does your consciousness pay the most attention to?
- What situations make it most difficult for you to maintain your integrity?
- What experiences do you need to gain more vitality?
- What experiences deplete your vitality?

My gifts are feelings, reactivity, protection, caring, trust, intimacy and warning system (anxiety).

I demand from you to find an environment that provides you with a sense of physical and mental security, fulfilment of basic needs and opportunity to build intimacy with others.

More about me...

I am what is hidden and what is unconscious. I am receptive, reflective and reactive. I react to situations instinctively. I need security and I find it most often in intimacy and being close to others (initially with my mother) or where I feel authentically myself. I am an inner child and their mother. I can be sentimental and sometimes go back to the past. Because I change my position quickly, I change your emotions either. I can be irrational, but I'm trying to protect you. I am habitual and have prejudices against certain behaviours. Sometimes I react automatically - reflexively. It's for your own good. Security is what I need.

MOON'S POSITION

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the type of emotions that the Moon expresses and on what plane it seeks comfort, and the quality shows how it deals with discomfort and how it confronts fears. The zodiac sign adds the rest of the details. The whole picture is a portrait of your subconscious and emotionality.

Fuel: The moon regenerates through elemental qualities. Zodiac Traits: Describes how you react emotionally. How do you respond to threats? How do you deal with emotions? What do you need to feel comfortable in a given environment?

Houses ruled by the Moon or of which it is almuten indicate areas of life that are crucial to your sense of security. They activate your fears and describe your greatest attachments. They point to unconscious programs and sensitive points.

The house that the Moon occupies is the place where you look for security, where you find it or where you feel its lack. This is where you run away from intimacy or difficult emotions. This is where you express your emotions most strongly. This is where you build your comfort zone. If you exhaust the resources of this house, its ruler will force the batteries to recharge.

THE POSITION OF THE MOON SHOWS:

- Cellular memory, the subconscious hidden in the body.
- Adaptation mechanisms and how you look for acceptance in your environment (this results from upbringing).
- How you seek safety and comfort.
- Type and quality of unconscious programs and ancestral karmic codes.
- The security language you use as a result of these conditions.
- Your attachment style.
- What kind of fears appear in your life?
- What experiences do you need to get comfortable.
- How do you build your comfort zone and what makes it difficult for you to get out of it?
- Your subjectively perceived comfort.
- How your internal emotional regulation system works (emotions are feelings that have been associated with a specific narrative and are played automatically in each similar situation).
- How you show care for others and what kind of care you expect from others.
- How do you escape from difficult emotions (you do it in a way related to the features and disposition of a given zodiac sign).

Ruler & Mooltrikona: Cancer Exaltation: Taurus

Detriment: Capricorn Fall: Scorpio

DIGNITIES

I rule Cancer and it is fully focused on seeking mental comfort, building intimacy with others, taking care of its environment and loved ones. It is the one who values home and tenderness.

Capricorn is in detriment with me because it is focused on its career and finds it difficult to express its emotions. It is interested in independence and self-reliance, and true intimacy requires some level of dependence!

I am exalted in Taurus and this sign represents creative expression of my comfort. It is strongly attached to matter and ready to work as much as it is needed to get it. For Taurus, imagination can be used to create some artistic expression.

I am in fall in the sign of Scorpio, because this sign explores the depths of the psyche with courage and opens up to crises, while I prefer my comfort. Scorpio bursts with emotions and reaches out to places that are dangerous and uncomfortable.

INNER CHILD

The Moon is associated with caring, motherly energy. The mother is the first person with whom we achieved emotional closeness and a sense of security, but this happened at a stage when we were unconscious. Depending on which of our needs were not met by our parents at that time, we have different wounds and gaps in the subconscious. Each of us is a Cosmic Child and still needs closeness, comfort, tenderness and care. Adulthood means that we also have to take responsibility for ourselves and we then become our own supervisor. We need to approach each other with care, love and tenderness. The subconscious is like a night that requires the light of Solar Consciousness to illuminate any unnoticed programs and heal your Inner Child. The moon is associated with fears, and they most often reach deep into the psyche. It is important to work with the body, heal ancestral karma and become aware of one's own wounds. It is important to get closer to yourself enough to accept your pain and release emotions that are pushed to the unconscious. Working with the Moon means working with emotions, the body and a sense of security. It is our attachments that cause us to repeat the same patterns that we subjectively consider safe, even if they are not for good! The comfort zone created in such a situation significantly limits spiritual development. How to evolve in a world full of change when we try to stick to old patterns too much. Note that excessive attachment is addiction! The moon shows what is causing them (a specific type of fear).

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE MOON'S POSITION:

- What is your instinctive reaction when you feel safe?
- What is your reaction when you feel threatened?
- What type of feelings are you most familiar with?
- What are you afraid of? What are your fears?
- What does your internal image of a mother look like?
- When do you feel that others care about you?
- What kinds of experiences are comfortable for you and what are psychologically unpleasant or dangerous?
- How do you react when you are emotionally aroused?
- How do you behave in a safe and familiar environment?
- What circumstances are needed for you to relax?
- What kinds of emotions are you comfortable with and what kinds of emotions are you uncomfortable with?
- What types of experiences activate your unconscious programs?
- How do you show care and what type of care gives you greater emotional comfort?
- How do you react when your emotional comfort is taken away from you?
- What and who are you most attached to? Why?
- What would be the hardest for you to give up and why?

I am the ruler of Gemini and Virgo

My gifts are thoughts, words, writing, concepts, communication, discernment, analysis, curiosity, rationality, intellect.

I demand from you to collect various information, interpret your life, analyze experiences and exchange information with others.

More about me...

I am closest to the Sun and my job is to acquire, break down and analyse the information that consciousness collects throughout life. For this purpose, I organise information in the form of concepts, thoughts and words. I use speech and writing, and to gain new information, I move around and open up to other people. I am sociable because I want to have more information. I like to sort and define situations. I love coming up with new ideas and sharing them with others. I can be unemotional, but that's because emotions interfere with the rational assessment of situations and events at the information level.

MERCURY'S POSITION:

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the zone in which Mercury meets its needs, and the quality shows its main motivations. The zodiac sign represents what you are interested in and how you want to communicate, what your perception is and what opportunities you are looking for.

Fuel: The element is the fuel for Mercury.

Zodiac traits: these are traits that describe how you think, speak and understand reality.

The houses ruled by Mercury or of which it is almuten indicate the areas of life that occupy your Mind the most. These areas are the story of your life and you give a lot of attention to them. You like to talk about them with others and you look at the world through lenses created with those areas. This is where the worries exist. This is where it is worth creating a conscious narrative.

The house that Mercury occupies is the place where you express your history, thoughts and ideas. This is your communication area. It is in these matters that you look for answers, understanding and express your knowledge. You use your intellect in the way described by this house. Mercury draws on the resources of this house to create clever possibilities and options.

MERCURY'S POSITION SHOWS:

- The way you communicate and talk.
- The way you process your own thoughts.
- How you process information (how you learn) and what attracts your attention.
- What sparks your curiosity.
- Mercury seeks understanding by combining information into a logical and coherent whole. It requires you to create a compelling story that describes the current situation in your life.
- How do you build the narrative of your life. What lies you tell yourself and others.
- How do you convince yourself of your experiences.
- How you convince others to believe in your story.
- How you use your own perception to navigate the physical world.
- Through what lenses of perception do you look at the world?
- How do you write the script of your own life?
- How you interpret life. The reality you experience is the result of your thoughts; of Mercury and your logical reasoning.
- How you look and find options and possibilities.

Ruler: Gemini Mooltrikona: Virgo Exaltation: Aquarius

Detriment: Sagittarius Fall: Pisces

DIGNITIES

I rule Gemini, which represents the part of me that wants to gain new information and connect with other people for constant mental expansion. Gemini gathers a lot of general knowledge on every topic and shares their stories with friends. This is a sign focused on mental expansion.

I am Mooltrikona in Virgo (this is where I feel most like myself), that represents the part of me that wants to analyse carefully gathered information and specialise in a certain area. Virgo wants to delve deeper and understand how Perception affects the Body. This is a sign of expansion focused on the functionality of the acquired information. Virgo is the embodiment of mental analysis, logic and calculation.

Sagittarius is in detriment with me. It is the sign that lacks logical thinking and focus on the power of faith. Sagittarius is not fond of typical education unless it is connected to some higher truth. It prefers spontaneous action to thinking.

I am exalted in Aquarius, where I express myself creatively. I use mind and intelligence to invent something new for other people and accumulate information to create ideologies. I try to use information the most effective way.

I am in the fall in the sign of Pisces, which focuses on intuition, dissolve in spiritual unity, and the mind seems to be an obstacle to achieving it. Pisces is well known as the least logical zodiac sign.

STORY OF YOUR LIFE

Mercury is the part of us that names things, labels them and specifies them. The stories we tell ourselves and others are mirror images of our own perceptions. In this way, we create our own mental world, which, although subjective and individual, is extremely real. Mercury is the content and information we let in and out of our mind. They build our image of reality. This is why it is worth being selective in what we use our senses for (they are the gateway to perception). It is worth consciously choosing music, films, people and conversation topics. They all build and influence our narrative. Working with Mercury means working with awareness of your own thoughts and words. Consciously choosing the story we tell about our lives makes our reality begin to blossom at the Mental level. If we also take care of the Moon, we will begin to experience a comfortable version of reality. Consciously mastering your mind and the thoughts that appear in it is a necessary step when we want to leave the Kingdom of Victimhood. We should realise that we are responsible for choosing the interpretation of a given situation. Our Mind plays the same thought tape over and over again until we take control and change the way we think. It is the Mind that gives meaning to reality through reason logic. It is the one who rationalises and (rationalisations are usually lies). When working with Mercury, it helps to ask yourself questions and test your own logic and consistency of history.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY MERCURY'S POSITION:

- How do you tell your life story?
- What do you like to talk about and why? What do you pay attention to?
- What do conversations represent for you?
- What lies do you tell yourself and others?
- How do you experience your reality?
- How do you understand the world and process information?
- How would you describe your life?
- What circumstances make it difficult for you to understand and process information?
- How do you pursue answers?
- What are you interested in general. What kind of people, conversations, new places are you interested in?
- What content do you pay attention to and what do you ignore?
- What criteria do you use to filter information?

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the zone in which Venus satisfies its needs, and the quality shows its main motivations for doing so. The zodiac sign adds the rest of the details. The whole picture is your own language of love and validation.

Fuel: The element is the fuel for Venus.

Zodiac traits: these are the traits you look for in others, but what you really need to do is to develop those traits on your own. These are important life values for you.

The houses ruled by Venus or of which it is almuten indicate the areas of life for which you most want to be recognised, noticed and appreciated. They are important for self-esteem and require special integration of values. It is in these zones that you look for your loved one and this is where you are sensitive to rejection and criticism. Here you want to experience pleasure and comfort. This is your path to love.

The house that Venus occupies shows how and where you look for love, recognition and gratitude. This is where you connect with your core values and this is where you want to establish loving relationships. You open your heart by committing yourself to this sphere of life.

VENUS POSITION SHOWS:

- Our needs for validation: to be seen, appreciated, heard, loved, accepted and valuable.
- How do you experience love and what do you want to be recognized for?
- How do you want to show gratitude to others?
- What are your core values (what is most important to you) and what gives meaning and purpose to your life.
- What matters to you and what things are important to you in life.
- What is attractive, pleasant and meaningful to you.
- Your taste and preferences (material and abstract).
   Objects that have meaning to you have their own symbolism, which reflects the Zodiac Sign.
- Which values do you want to experience the most?
- What is most important to you in building interpersonal relationships.
- What kind of pleasure and relaxation are you looking for?
- What behaviours will build self-love in you.
- What does you love life look like and what does it require, e.g. Venus in Pisces requires faith in love.
- What experiences trigger feelings of rejection?
- Which increases you self-esteem.
- What decreases your self-esteem.

Ruler: Taurus Mooltrikona: Libra Exaltation: Pisces

Detriment: Scorpio, Aries Fall: Virgo

DIGNITIES

I rule Taurus because it likes physical comfort, sensual pleasure and material well-being. Taurus prefers peace and stable relationships with people.

I am a Mooltrikona in Libra because it most reflects my energy. Libra values harmony, aesthetics and relationships with other people.

Aries is in detriment with me because it is focused on itself and its own desires. Values risk and strong impressions. Scorpio is a detriment either because it can be suspicious, short-tempered and distrustful.

I am exalted in Pisces and it is there that my love takes on a divine dimension. This is where I love more spiritually than physically. I develop unconditional love that knows no boundaries, but sacrifices.

I am in fall in the sign of Virgo and this is where I choose work over comfort and confrontation with others over peace. This is where I rationalize my feelings, which makes it difficult for me to open my heart to others.

SELF-LOVE

Very often we start the journey of self-love by looking for recognition in the eyes of others. We look for love outside, thinking that someone will eventually give it to us. Venus demands that we discover what we are looking for and find it within ourselves. If you are looking for a partner who will give you the empathy, start giving it to yourself first. Start building self-respect, following your priorities and falling in love with yourself. I'm not talking about narcissism here (it is a mechanism that covers the lack of self-love). What I'm talking about here is loving yourself enough to consciously choose who you build interpersonal relationships with. Love yourself enough to recognise your priorities and do not sacrifice them for others. Love yourself enough to take care of your body and give it enough rest. Another symptom of self-love is allowing yourself to enjoy an amount of pleasure that does not cause other parts of you to suffer. It is also important to understand that love in relationships is a shared growth, not an intoxicating feeling. Mature lover knows how love differs from lust, infatuation, longing or adoration. Mature love is free and it is not a subject to control. We gain access to it only when we love ourselves fully. To make this possible, we must live in harmony with our values and what is important to us. The need for validation affects your well-being and the harmonious quality of your relationships. When you love yourself, you will never feel rejected. When you truly love, you share love unconditionally, not transactionally.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VENUS POSITION:

- What experiences make you feel loved and accepted?
- How do you expect validation?
- What compliments do you appreciate the most?
- What actions, behaviours and values increase your self-esteem?
- Why do you seek recognition or prosperity?
- What kinds of experiences make you feel insignificant or unappreciated?
- How and where do you look for confirmation and recognition?
- What objects and material things do you value and why?
- How do you react when you feel rejected or unaccepted?
- What makes you feel rejected, unloved and unappreciated?
- What experiences make it difficult for you to recognize your values?
- Where are you looking for love? What do you appreciate in other people?
- What kinds of experiences are important to you?
- What values do you associate with them? What do they symbolize?

MARS POSITION

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the plan on which Mars meets its needs and what it identifies with most, and the quality shows the motivation behind the actions. The zodiac sign tells you how and what you fight for, how you get angry, and how you pursue your desires

Fuel: The element is the fuel for Mars.

Zodiac traits: these are the traits that motivate you, arouse desires in you and push you to action.

Houses ruled by Mars show how you define your identity. You identify with these areas of your life and they are also parts of you that you need to defend. They are the source of your frustration and this is where you fight for position. These are the areas that require courage, action, and motivation from you. You need them to understand yourself.

The house that Mars occupies is the place where you naturally take action and demonstrate your desires, anger, and character. This is where you act instinctively and you have the impression that this area will bring you satisfaction, which is illusory. Houses ruled by Mars bring greater benefits.

THE POSITION OF MARS SHOWS:

- What is your approach to risk, acquisition and struggle.
- Your level of motivation and focus.
- What motivates you and ignites the fire of passion.
- Where do you find an external outlet for your energy?
- How do you set life goals?
- · How your commitment to your goal changes.
- When your anger, frustration and irritation appear.
- How do you defend yourself against others and how do you express anger?
- What is your object of desire?
- How do you express your strength and what do you find power in?
- How do you feel the influence of physical instincts (including sexual drive).
- How you seduce with your energy.
- How you cross other people's boundaries.
- How you defend your identity.
- What do you defend fiercely and on what issues are you less likely to admit you are wrong?
- What do you identify with? How do you use your will?
- How and why you make decisions and actions.
- How you compete with others.
- · How you make decisions.
- What is your role in the 3D world.

Ruler: Scorpio Mooltrikona: Aries Exaltation: Capricorn

Detriment: Taurus, Libra Fall: Cancer

DIGNITIES

I rule Scorpio because it is an extremely strong-willed sign that has the ability to dominate and get its own way. This sign also loves the passion of sexual intimacy.

In Aries, I am a Mooltrikona because it is most consistent with my energy. Aries focuses on realising its desires through goal focus, assertiveness and entrepreneurship. Aries loves activity, adventure and physical intimacy.

I am exalted in Capricorn and this sign is the most creative with me. It focuses so much on goals and obligations, creating something real. It focuses on the material world and the pursuit of success. Capricorn is strong and powerful.

I am in detriment in the sign of Libra because it lacks specificity and individual motivation. It takes others into account too much instead of acting independently. I'm also in detriment in Taurus because this sign sticks too much to its routines and is quite slow. It lacks momentum and focuses too little on physical activities.

I am in fall in Cancer because this sign chooses dependency over individuality. It chooses emotions over actions and caring for others over focusing on itself.

HEALTHY EGO

Mars is the mask we wear in this life. It is our role, identity and who we are in a three-dimensional world. A healthy ego (a healthy personality) requires several things from us. First, it is important to be aware of what we identify with. Who are we in our own eyes? Do we know this? Can we play our role correctly? Who are we in the earthly theater? It is important to know this and be able to express it in a healthy way, without self-aggrandizement, pride or controlling others. It is important to learn to control this part of ourselves before we project that control onto others. It is worth employing your Mars (action, motivation) to cooperate with Venus (what is actually important to you). When your Mars focuses its energy on issues that are important to you, you gain a warrior who will be ready to conquer peaks for you. For Mars (ego) to function healthily, it is worth developing a strong will that consciously chooses how to use the resources of motivating dopamine. Depending on our relationship with temptations, habits and the strength of Saturn (reason), our Volition will be Free or Dependent. As a Warrior, Mars needs drill, discipline, a strong body and a focused mind. This can be achieved through concentration exercises, mastering ability to focus, physical training and learning to make sound decisions. A healthy Ego is aware of the temptations present everywhere, but is also disciplined to choose actions that do not create wars with what is important to you (Venus). A healthy Ego overcomes weaknesses and fears instead of leading to selfdestruction.

JUPITER "I expand"

I am the ruler of Pisces and Sagittarius.

My gifts are abundance, expansion, growth, tolerance, knowledge, faith, optimism, gratitude, hope and conviction.

I demand you to build a belief system, open yourself to abundance and the sea of possibilities, expand your perspective and master the law of attraction.

More about me...

I am a planet that magnifies everything it touches. I bring a lot of perspectives and opportunities to expand thinking horizons and acquire knowledge. I attract opportunities for growth into your life, but it is up to you to decide whether you generous and attract abundance in the houses I pass through. I have a good sense of humor and I am optimistic (sometimes excessive), which makes me irresponsible (e.g. lack of moderation). I am an idealist and I help you build beliefs and belief systems. I am looking for a deeper meaning in life. I show you different perspectives and open your mind to different cultures.

FAITH > GROWTH > PERSPECTIVE > PHILOSOPHY > ETHICS > MEANING > INTEGRATION

Ruler: Pisces Mooltrikona: Sagittarius Exaltation: Cancer

Detriment: Gemini, Virgo Fall: Capricorn

JUPITER POSITION

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows the plan on which you build your faith and grow. Quality determines what really motivates you to expand. The Zodiac sign determines the source of your faith, the type of imagination and the reason why you are growing.

Houses ruled by Jupiter or of which it is almuten indicate key areas of life that help you gain faith, develop and grow. They are the fuel for your expansion. You build your faith as you become more involved in the areas of life of these houses. They are a source of inspiration, fantasy, faith or exaggeration. These are the houses that test your faith and these are the areas where you tend to overdo.

The house that Jupiter occupies is where you find faith and higher purpose. This is where you may have excessive attitudes, excessive beliefs, or feel a desire for "more". Here you demonstrate faith and the need for development. The feeling of lack in this house results from the improper use of the resources of the houses ruled by Jupiter.

JUPITER'S POSITION SHOWS:

- How society gives context to your individual life.
- What expands the context of your story and perception.
- What causes hope to grow. What helps you grow?
- Where you seek faith, wisdom, knowledge and a deeper purpose or meaning in life. What do you use for this?
- What is your perspective on life.
- What are your beliefs about life?
- What is your approach to dreams and fantasising?
- What do you believe in and what is your approach to faith?
- How you manifest your dreams.
- How often do you doubt and in what situations?
- Where you have the potential to grow and develop.
- What do you tend to be exaggerated or excess about?
- How you pursue abundance.
- How you meet the need for development.
- What makes the most sense to you.
- What is hard for you to believe or what beliefs make it difficult for you (lower level of consciousness)?
- How much you feel like you deserve something.
- How do you verify your growth? How do you know when you have actually developed?
- What awareness of abundance do you have?

Ruler: Pisces Mooltrikona: Sagittarius Exaltation: Cancer

Detriment: Gemini, Virgo Fall: Capricorn

DIGNITIES

I rule Pisces because it is a sign with extremely strong faith. Pisces look at the world from a cosmic perspective and daydream. Pisces are dreamy and spiritual.

In Sagittarius, I am Mooltrikona because it is most consistent with my energy. Sagittarius is full of optimism and faith. It likes to open up to new perspectives and is looking for a higher truth that will give his life more meaning.

I am in exalted in Cancer and this sign tends to be exaggerated with me. It may be overly emotional and overly attached to others. It is also sometimes naive, which is the result of excessive belief in someone or something.

I am in detriment in the sign of Gemini, because this sign does not seek deeper understanding and meaning, but simply gathers a lot of information and possibilities. I am also in detriment in Virgo, because it is a sign that is interested in expanding some information system beyond a deeper spiritual understanding of its meaning.

I'm in fall in Capricorn, which can be conservative and has quite a narrow perspective. He chooses a few views that it clings to. It is focused on traditions, not broadening horizons.

MANIFESTATION

Jupiter teaches us that fantasy and imagination alone are not enough when we really want to fulfil our dreams. What matters is whether we strongly believe in them. What matters is whether we nourish our vision with faith. It is worth noting that dreams are a very important part of life because they give us purpose, motivation and stimulate the imagination. Jupiter, as the first social planet, helps us direct our Mind to the opportunities that arise in our reality. Opportunities depend on what we imagine and whether we consciously use our imagination. The more precisely we present what we want, the easier Jupiter will show us the way. The more we believe, the easier it will be. The more often we remind ourselves of our dreams, the more we can stay motivated to pursue it. It is impossible to create a better reality if we lack hope, faith or cannot imagine the desired results. Imagination is powerful because it draws us to options from a sea of possibilities. Dreams, even though they fill us with enthusiasm, require us to find moderation not to stop at the vision itself and remember about the next steps towards the goal. Abundance is a mental state that results from the right amount of faith, and the latter tunes our mind to accept opportunities that will also lead to success on the material level. Jupiter knows no boundaries and therefore needs cooperation with Saturn for its beautiful visions to be actual, long-term and consistent manifestations. It's worth dreaming, but remember to also work on your next steps!

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY JUPITER'S POSITION:

I am the ruler of Aquarius and Capricorn.

My gifts are perseverance, discipline, routine, diligence, responsibility, commitment, justice, morality, law.

I demand you to set some goals, persistently pursue them, overcome all obstacles, release fears, be consistent, live in harmony with the world and master the law of karma.

More about me...

I put challenges on your path because I want you to become a strong, conscientious person. I am the judge who teaches you the consequences of your actions and rewards your hard work. I look at the material world realistically. There must be law and order so that it does not descend into chaos. Structure, routines and rules are important. There must be boundaries and some form of control. Discipline, responsibility and commitment are important to me. I help you mature spiritually and challenge you overcome your fears. I wouldn't have to create pressure if you humbly did your homework and paid your spiritual debts.

Ruler: Capricorn Mooltrikona: Aquarius Exaltation: Libra

Detriment: Cancer, Leo Fall: Aries

SATURN'S POSITION

Please note that the Zodiac Sign is a combination of element and quality. The element shows how you understand responsibility and what you think you need to take responsibility for. Where do you set your boundaries and what are you guided by in setting them? The Zodiac sign represents your attitude to legal authorities, boundaries and responsibility, what responsibility means to you and how you build structures in your life.

Houses ruled by Saturn indicate areas of life in which you learn Saturn's lessons and karmic challenges. This is where you practice responsibility. These areas test your perseverance and commitment. They require the creation of rules and routines that keep an eye on matters in these areas. This is where you also suffer the consequences. This is where the limitations come in. With hard work, you can gain prosperity from these areas. You also judge others through the prism of these areas, trying to avoid being judged for their own negligence.

The house that Saturn occupies is the place where you need to demonstrate authority and maturity. It is a place that requires routine control, imposition of restrictions and full responsibility. This is where you experience the shadow and express judgments. Here you are looking for authority and giving them the power to act. This is where you suffer the consequences of your lack of responsibility the most.

SATURN'S POSITION SHOWS:

- Your attitude towards authorities.
- The type of your conscience and morality.
- How you build your own authority.
- How you become your own parent and you approach your own life responsibly.
- The voice of criticism in your head. Attitude towards responsibility.
- The rules of life you create and whether you live in harmony with them.
- Core beliefs that build your limitations.
- Do you deceive yourself, and how do you do this?
- What do you blame others for?
- Who do you blame/judge?
- Do you give your authority? To whom?
- Type of karmic challenges.
- What kind of criticism might you face?
- What is your attitude towards responsibility?
- How do you approach conscious intention.
- Are you responsible for your current intention?
- Whether and how much you resist responsibility.
- How you set boundaries for other people while respecting yourself.
- Do you avoid responsibility and how?
- How do You set boundaries with yourself?

Ruler: Capricorn Mooltrikona: Aquarius Exaltation: Libra

Detriment: Cancer, Leo Fall: Aries

DIGNITIES

I rule Capricorn because it is a sign with an extremely strong personal conscience. It is hardworking and responsible. It focuses on life routines, achievements and building personal structures.

In Aquarius, I am Mooltrikona because it is most consistent with my energy. I am a social planet that wants to introduce new structures in society, and Aquarius focuses on exactly that. Aquarius is distant and judgmental about what society needs. Aquarius represents collective responsibility.

I am exalted in Libra and this sign tends to be the most creative with me. It tends to be analysing, judgmental and seeking justice at all costs. Libra symbolises harmony, which is ultimately a fluid phenomenon, not a fixed one.

I am in detriment in the sign of Cancer because this sign is not focused on society, but rather on building its own nest and home. I am also in detriment in Leo, because it is a sign that wants to express itself in a liberated way and enjoy life to the fullest, without limits.

I'm in fall in Aries, that can be irresponsible, likes risk and has a hard time accepting boundaries. This sign chooses freedom and can sometimes ignore the consequences or responsibilities.

RESPONSIBILITY

Saturn teaches us that any expansion and development of Jupiter must have some limits. He puts obstacles in our way and helps us become stronger. When we cross Saturn's boundaries, discomfort, guilt, shame, or judgment arise. Saturn reminds us of the value of perseverance and commitment, and on the other hand, teaches consistency and shows the need for responsibility. Working with Saturn requires creating authority within yourself - an internal quality that has already learned to test consequences in your life and respond to emerging karmic responses. When we find Authority and Responsibility within ourselves, we will discover that they are the keys to Freedom. It's not about fighting the system or fighting against the Universal Laws, but about being able to use them to build your own world. When you master cosmic law and responsibility, your life will no longer be a fight against the flow of the river. You will learn to surf on it! Saturn teaches you that knowledge is inferior to wisdom. Wisdom is the conscious experience of life, and knowledge is a collection of other people's theories and experiences. Saturn helps you understand your own limitations and pushes you to develop, pointing you in the right direction. Stop blaming others and take responsibility for yourself. Stop making excuses or blaming - it's avoiding the inevitable. Face the consequences bravely and humbly. Explore the boundaries of reality and find a way to follow its Laws. Don't interfere in other people's affairs, focus on your own. Recognise authorities, but also build your own. Make your own rules and respect your routines.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY SATURN:

- What is the main source of your judgments?
- What does responsibility mean to you?
- What is your relationship with your responsibilities?
- What do you dislike doing but feel like you have to?
- How do you react to the word "no", to rejection, to someone's boundaries?
- How do you set boundaries with yourself and others?
- In which areas of your life do you need to be responsible, attentive and consistent?
- What qualities do you least respect in others?
- How do you give power (causal power) to authorities?
- What qualities and experiences do you evaluate in yourself and others?
- How do you set boundaries?
- What qualities do you respect people for and which are the trigger for creating judgments?
- What behavioural traits or ways of being are unacceptable to you.
- What is your level of perseverance and diligence?
- How do you approach life's challenges and the consequences of your actions?

ELEMENTS & QUALITIES

L E V E L O N E

FOUR ELEMENTS

L E V E L O N E

KINGDOM OF SELF (THE SPIRIT)

FIRE

FIRE Yang Energy

Cardinal Spark - Baran Fixed Warmth - Leo Mutable Flame - Sagittarius

ARIES - LEO - SAGITTARIUS

Fire represents warmth, motivation and high energy. Fire is the freedom of expression of spirit, which has transforming potential. Striving for growth. It wants to rise higher and higher - closer to the truth.

Fiery feelings are intense and extreme, e.g. passion, excitement, pride, anger.

Fire is subjective, impulsive, active.

More about me...

I am outwardly expressive (extroverted). I am very focused on myself and absorbed in my energy. My identity is important - just watch me burn! My desires ignite a lot of energy in me and I am happy to fulfil them. I must rise higher and spread out (develop). I am unrestrained and intensely express what I feel. Let everyone see what I'm burning with. I shine with a bright, honest and direct flame. I burn out the falsehood and choose authenticity. I burn out when I run out of fuel - inspiration. I need to fan the flames of motivation and overcome crises by adding more fuel. I'm subjective and sometimes lack perspective. That 's not a problem! Why should I know everything when I can find something for myself! When I burn, I sometimes lack moderation. If I lose control, I might burn you.

Planets in this element

They must be in constant motion and action. They are motivated by the fulfilment of their inspirations and passions. They need intensity, physical effort and creative expression. They need space to express themselves. They want to express their greatest potential by raising their vibration. They are looking for their individual path and authentic expression. It is very important for them to be honest with themselves.

They regenerate their power through the presence of a flame (bonfire, fireplace, candles) or exposure to sunlight. Their energy is also increased by physical activity (including sports). To express themselves fully, they need fuel, and they get it through inspiring, exciting and intense life experiences. If they run out of fuel, motivation disappears and they become burnt out in a given area of life.

Compatibility

Fire + Air: They reinforce each other, are extroverted and externally focused. Air is more objective and fire is more subjective. This combination is full of stimulation, adventure and exploration.

Fire + Earth: the fire is extinguished and the earth is burned. The fire feels limited next to the earth, and the earth feels overwhelmed by the intensity of the fire. The Earth slows down the growth of fire, and the fire disrupts the structure of the Earth. Earth wants control and stability, and fire wants freedom and impulsiveness.

Fire + Water: Water extinguishes fire or ignites it (gasoline). Both elements are emotional, but Fire prefers visible feelings, related to reason, while Water prefers more subtle, internal ones. Water perceives Fire as insensitive and Fire perceives Water as oversensitive.

KINGDOM OF SENSES (THE BODY)

EARTH

Fixed Soil - Taurus Mutable Sand - Virgo Cardinal Rock - Capricorn

EARTHYin Energy

TAURUS - VIRGO - CAPRICORN

The earth represents structure, concreteness and the material world. It is receptive (receives) and passive. It is embedded and grounded. It wants to understand what the specific function of given things is in material reality.

Earthy feelings are associated with peace, quiet, relaxation and stability.

The Earth is objective, sensual, passive.

More about me...

I am oriented towards expressing myself internally (introverted). I am real, visible and tangible. I am grounded in what is practical and functional. I look at the world from a sensual perspective. I prefer order, neatness, gentleness and sequencing. I lose ground when there is chaos, excessive romanticism or a lack of boundaries. I desire things that are physical or have material benefits. I am interested in safe foundations and a sense of comfort. I prefer facts over theories. I prefer what is measured and proven. I am the final stage of manifestation - materialisation. I am rational, reasonable and objective. I am fully focused on functionality and defining the foundations. I'm interested in actual value, not superficiality.

Planets in this element

They are reluctant to change. They are quite stable, practical and functionality-oriented. They are looking for predictability and structure. They feel better in places where boundaries are clearly defined, responsibility is distributed, and the rules are known. These planets may lack flexibility and expression. They are precise, accurate, specific, slow, solid. They have their feet firmly on the Earth. However, this can lead to a lack of depth, a lack of inspiration, or a lack of logic. This may result in being too stuck in the material world (getting lost in the matrix). Possible shadows are greed and materialism.

They regenerate their power through touching the soil, grounding, contact with Nature, walking, creating forms (sculpting, painting), massages, and physical comfort. They draw fuel from structure, form, rules and routines. When they run out of fuel, they feel like their world is falling apart. Their effectiveness decreases.

Compatibility

Earth + Fire: These elements do not understand each other and have different motivations and goals. Earth finds fire too chaotic and unprincipled, and fire finds earth boring. The fire is too intense and unpredictable for the earth and burns it.

Earth + Air: they are united by objectivity, order, and both elements pay attention to content and meaning. They also keep a distance from intense emotions and are sequential. Unfortunately, there are significant differences here. Air needs stimulation, freedom, abstraction and theorizing. Earth prefers specifics, facts and principles. This limits the Air.

Earth + Water: Water fertilizes the earth, and the earth gives shape to the water. The earth becomes spiritually deeper and the water becomes more practical. Water adds subtlety to the earth, and the earth gives direction to the water. The downside is that water can be too unstable and messy, and the earth doesn't like that.

KINGDOM OF THOUGHT (THE MIND)

AIR

AIR Yang Energy

Mutable Wind - Gemini Cardinal Breeze - Libra Fixed Storm - Aquarius

GEMINI - LIBRA - AQUARIUS

Air expresses itself on the mental, social and intellectual plane. It is full of movement, light and interested in the world. It thinks, rationalises, relativizes and conceptualises. Content counts.

Airy feelings are the joy of conversation, curiosity, lightness of spirit, enthusiasm.

Air is objective, associative, active.

More about me...

I am outwardly expressive (extroverted). I am active and change my mind quickly. I evaporate when intense energies arise. I open my mind and draw from an infinite field of information. I soar to intellectual heights and sometimes fall to understand the mundane. I am analysing different options and looking at the possibilities. I ask questions and look for answers. I am motivated by curiosity about the world. I am a wind of inspiration that needs communication and freedom. I am the breath that regulates the speed of the mind. I feel great in the world of abstractions and new ideas. It is important to exchange information, which is why social connections connections are crucial Knowledge, concepts, theories and thoughts are important.

Planets in this element

They seek intellectual and mental stimulation. They need some movement and space. They need new information, relationships and social opportunities. They are motivated by curiosity about the world and the desire to find their own answers. They want to establish connections on a mental level and easily enter into theorising mode. These planets have an obiective perspective and draw reasonable conclusions. They are characterised by a high level of logical thinking. They feel good when someone names things or reduces them to concepts. They lack focus, consistency and practicality. They get bored quickly.

They regenerate their power by stimulating their intellect, mental and social activity; wind, fresh air, open spaces, social gatherings, mind-stimulating games. They draw their power from philosophy, concepts and knowledge. When they lack fuel, their mental performance declines. The ability to integrate new information decreases.

Compatibility

Air + Fire: together they search for various forms of expression, abstraction and the experience of freedom. They act consciously and prefer thinking to feeling. Fire inspires air, and air fuels fire with its curiosity and freedom. They increase their individuality, self-confidence and motivation to act. There are several things that differentiate them, e.g. air is objective and fire is subjective; air wants relationships with others, and fire seeks to know thyself.

Air + Earth: They have several things in common, but more differences. The Earth is too little conscious, too slow and too structured for the air. Air wants expression, freedom and quick change. The air avoids specifics, while the earth seeks them. Air likes unpredictability, while earth likes the opposite.

Air + Water: have very little in common. Air looks for intellectual stimulation, and water mainly wants to feel. Water seeks connection and air seeks freedom. Water seeks depth within and air explores without.

KINGDOM OF ESSENCE (THE SOUL)

WATER

Cardinal River - Cancer Fixed Glacier - Scorpio Mutable Ocean - Pisces

WATERYin Energy

CANCER - SCORPIO - PISCES

Water represents emotions, feelings and the depths of the psyche where consciousness rarely reaches. Water is feelings, primal energies and cellular memory. Water is the records of the soul and the subconscious of the body.

Water feelings are subtle. They include happiness, sentiment, sadness, tenderness.

Water is subjective, associative, passive.

More about me...

I am oriented towards expressing myself internally (introverted). I am formless and therefore receptive. I penetrate the earth and the sky (clouds). I am filled with the desire to traverse structures and destroy blockages. I am flooding you with feelings that can be uncontrollable, chaotic and sudden. I strive to unconscious discover the desires motivations of the soul. I surf the waves of the mystery of life, seeking connection with the world. I influence the world using my empathy, compassion and flexibility. I wander the unconscious sea using my imagination. I'm trying to find out the secrets hidden at its bottom. I represent the memory of experiences. I want to know the truth and I am looking for its meaning. I like being dependent on others and coming together as one. Sometimes I don't discern myself from others. I descend to lower levels of consciousness to heal my wounds.

Planets in this element

They are motivated by the emotional plane and the energies they feel. They explore their own depths to discover the secrets hidden in the subconscious and realise their direction. They act unconsciously, guided by intuition, energy or feelings. They need to feel and are characterised by reactivity, sometimes irrationality or instinctiveness. The main motive of these planets is to create emotional bonds. Their shadow may be manipulation to maintain compassion. These planets are connected to the unconscious and associated with the soul. They lack boundaries somewhat and absorb external energies more easily. They lose themselves in relationships. Water fluctuates on the scale of consciousness (unstable emotions).

They regenerate through bonds and shared emotions, emotional music, silence, crying, sentiments, art; proximity to water. When they run out of fuel, they become apathetic and depressed.

Compatibility

Water + Fire: Not compatible, although they have some similarities. Water wants to express all emotions, and fire only the intense and extreme ones. Water seeks truth within, and fire seeks truth outside. Water wants deep connections and fire wants exploration.

Water + Earth: Water adds sensitivity, feelings and spiritual meaning to the earth. Both elements are quite introverted and receptive. The earth provides structure to water and gives it shape and direction. Together they explore reality. They complement each other.

Water + Air: the least compatible elements. Water perceives air as superficial, shallow, saturated with information, too theoretical. Water feels that it is impossible to build a deep bond here, and her emotions are rationalized by air. Water feels lonely in such a relationship.

THREE QUALITIES

L E V E L O N E

I PRESENT YOU QUALITY THAT IS

CARDINAL

INITIATION

Cardinal signs are associated with a new beginning, a new season, a new stage of life. The change has already taken place and nature is now actively introducing new elements. This energy opposes cosmic entropy and tries to organise the space. It symbolises the beginning of a new season. One season is gone and a new one needs to fully develop and gain momentum. On the one hand, cardinal energy brings sentiment about the past, and on the other, the need to mobilise to build something new. It's a bit as if the new season requires the implementation of different development goals (one after the other) to build completely new energy. Building a new foundation takes many tasks, many attempts and many failures. When you finally achieve your desired goal, it makes your life much better and moves the plot forward. Cardinal energy wants to discover and make breakthroughs, create new trends and take on challenges. When cardinal energy is confronted, it actively defends itself - it counterattacks. Sometimes it attacks before it is attacked (preventively). This energy prefers to solve a problem before it becomes a larger problem. It does not avoid challenges, but instead confronts them with courage.

PLANETS IN CARDINAL SIGNS:

- They initiate, start and take new actions.
- They' re looking for themselves and their identity.
- They often act based on the fear that they "are bad" and need to actively prove themselves to be better. This fear can lead to unconscious rushing.
- They live based on the past (that's why they want to take new actions to prove to themselves that change has already taken place and the past is over).
- They expect that they should have achieved their goal a long time ago (e.g. Venus should have felt valuable a long time ago, Mercury should have known a long time ago, and Saturn should have achieved his ambitions and be responsible a long time ago).
- They feel as if they had to catch up on some developmental backlog.
- They are focused on a specific goal and focus their energy on it. Failure requires analysis of past mistakes.
- They are so eager to act that they sometimes forget to recharge their batteries. Sometimes there is not enough energy to fully achieve a given goal. It's a good idea to break a large goal into many smaller steps.
- They are characterised by initiative, internal motivation, and the need to start something new.
- They overcome problems that arose in the past.

EXAMPLES:

Cardinal Energy likes to be in control and initiate because it feels responsible for the new energy.

ARIES: As a fire sign, it likes to act as a leader, controlling ventures and the directions in which they go. Initiates activities and starts projects. It is enterprising and controls the flow of energy. It is a trigger for new projects. Likes to set the example of proactivity.

CANCER: As a water sign, it likes to control the emotional environment, home environment and its own corner. It is enterprising and uses its emotions (both positive and negative) to initiate emotional connections with others. Likes to set an example of emotional closeness.

LIBRA: As an air sign, it likes to control the atmosphere between people and the course of the partnership. This sign initiates debates, analyses and interactions at the level of verbal communication. It is enterprising and likes to set social trends.

CAPRICORN: As an earth sign, it likes to have control over matter. It is enterprising, likes to handle money and manage physical activities, showing that they bring results. It likes to set the trend for material well-being, functionality and usability.

I PRESENT YOU QUALITY THAT IS ### FIXED

STABILITY

Fixed signs represent the continuation of a cycle that was built on the foundations of cardinal energy. This is the part of the season when it reaches its apogee and stably presents certain features, e.g. the middle of summer, when we have heat almost every day (the period of the Sun in the sign of Leo). Constant energy, instead of initiating something new, maintains what already exists. Fixed signs maintain their values, approaches, and paths to prove their worth. As the season reaches its peak, Fixed Energy wants to prove that the stability it presents is sufficient. It is an energy that opposes cosmic entropy. Even though everything is moving and changing, fixed energy tries to create stable ground for us, at least for a moment. Fixed energy is characterised by stability, stubbornness and routine. This energy needs to mature on its own, at its own pace. It perceives suggestions for change as an attack, to which it reacts by embedding itself even more strongly in its energy and defending it. Fixed signs treat such confrontations as opportunities to strengthen themselves, rather than hints at change. This energy hates pressure and judgment about its direction. It reacts to such behaviour with resistance and assertion that it is right.

PLANETS IN FIXED SIGNS:

- They maintain their energy to prove their worth.
- They are unconsciously motivated by the fear of not being enough.
- They strongly resist change and external influences.
- They accumulate energy. They work for the long term.
- They are characterised by strength, durability, stability and strength.
- They aim to evolve to adapt to the Universe in such a way as to maintain stability. However, their need for stability turns out to be too great and, as a result, there is a tendency to cut themselves off from the energy of cosmic abundance.
- They need strong stimuli to arouse activity in them, but once they are triggered, they move fully in some direction and it is difficult to stop them. They turn slowly.
- They can be stubborn. They change slowly.
- They are afraid of feeling lacking in the future and that is why they accumulate resources now.
- They prefer recharging their batteries over constant risk.
- They are overly attached to old approaches and methods.
- They are growing at a slow, steady and solid pace.
- They sometimes waste energy on routines that no longer serve them. They want to prove that they work.
- · They lack a bit of flexibility and speed.

EXAMPLES:

Fixed Energy likes to assert itself and accumulate energy that it shares with others. Fixed signs are focused on stability and changelessness.

LEO: As a fire sign it is associated with self-expression, and as a fixed sign it does so steadily. The lion accumulates vital energy and its own identity. When it reaches the appropriate level of energy, it shares it with others. It shares its warmth, charisma and character.

SCORPIO: As a water sign, it is connected to emotions and holds on to certain feelings (even if it is not good). It accumulates emotional energy and then shares it with others (in the form of outbursts of intense emotions). It shares its emotional intensity.

AQUARIUS: As an air sign, it is associated with information and creates stable perspectives within itself. It accumulates information, creating ideologies, and when they reach a certain level of stability, it shares them with others.

TAURUS: As an earth sign, it is associated with matter and the senses. It tries to create a stable material (physical) environment by accumulating matter (including food). When it reaches a sufficient level of stability, it shares the world of matter and senses with others.

I PRESENT YOU QUALITY THAT IS

MUTABLE

CHANGE

Now is the time when the cycle ends. The inevitability of the approaching change of season hangs in the air, and this increases the rush and desire to complete certain matters. This is a time of great order, analysis and transformation. The stability of Mutable Energy can no longer maintain harmony - healing and change are necessary. It is, for example, the end of summer, when it is time to harvest and prepare for autumn. The number of responsibilities and matters to be dealt with is increasing. This is also a time when more people are sick and need healing. They cannot keep up with changes in the environment. The arrival of a new season brings a sense of rush. You need to gather a lot of experience and perform various tasks. As the cycle completes, unconscious fear of this energy is the fear incompleteness. By transforming themselves, mutable signs try to believe that they will find completeness and acceptance in the Universe. Mutable Energy, when provoked, prefers to conform, run away, or fight. It looks for a way to best adapt to the situation. Unfortunately, this energy also tends to avoid problems by being clever and conserving energy. The season is ending and what is needed now is intense change, not dealing with further problems.

PLANETS IN MUTABLE SIGNS:

- They are intended to bring completeness and healing to what was begun by the cardinal signs and maintained by the fixed signs.
- They create new opportunities but do not take action.
- They are preparing new options for cardinal signs.
- They feel incomplete in some sense and as a result they adapt to their surroundings.
- They focus on individual tasks rather than the big picture. They focus on what they can complete now.
- They lack a long-term perspective and sometimes remain in the illusion of progress. This can cause them to go around in circles.
- They focus on the present but ignore the connection to the past or future.
- They are characterised by multitasking and a tendency to take on too much.
- Their batteries do not last long and require frequent charging. However, when they already have energy, they do not have to save it like fixed signs.
- They are easily procrastinated, distracted or dissociated.
- They are fast, flexible and have divided attention.
- They lack a clearly defined goal.
- They avoid, run away or constantly change something.
- They want to heal, bring closure, end.

EXAMPLES:

Mutable Signs like to heal, change and complete processes. Each mutable sign has Two Extremes, between which possibilities are sought.

SAGITTARIUS: As a fire sign, it enjoys various adventures and discovers itself through physical and mental journeys. Wants to heal its identity through philosophy or spirituality. Exploring it brings healing. It is a struggle between human and animal nature (higher values versus instincts).

PISCES: As a water sign, it likes to change their emotions and do so by exploring the sea of potential. It looks at the cosmic perspective and looks for ways to spiritually heal themselves and the world. In this sign, two fisger fight each other. One clings to the past and unconsciousness, while the other wants to awaken spiritually.

GEMINI: As an air sign, it likes to change its views and thinking. It likes talking to different people and looking for new ideas. In this way, it heals its personal spirituality. This sign has two minds, which helps it to see more options, but also causes frequent confusion and changes of mind.

VIRGO: As an earth sign, it likes to analyse and verify the effectiveness of various options. Explores the mind-body connection and the concept of physical health. It looks for efficiency and improvement of what is at a practical level. Virgo has a very active mind that ranges between extremes. There are detailed analysis and, on the other hand, excessive worries.

ZODIAC: WHAT IT REPRESENTS

Just as ecology is the science of life systems from the perspective of the planet, astrology is the science of consciousness systems from a cosmic perspective. Just as mathematics describes physics, the zodiac describes astrology. The zodiac is a language of archetypal energy that influences a particular Star System. Stars are Sources of Consciousness - Sources of Archetypal Information. They emit this information in every direction in the form of electromagnetic radiation. This radiation, when reaching another stellar system (e.g., the Solar System), influences that system. When the Archetypal Information from the constellation of Aries reaches Earth, it affects it, modulating its specific aspect. It looks something like this:

- 1. The Archetypal Information is sent from a specific star (e.g., from the constellation of Aries).
- 2.It travels through the cosmos and reaches the Solar System. If there is a planet on its path, for example, Saturn, it encodes a specific aspect of our reality (in the case of Saturn, it influences our responsibilities, governance, and many others see 'Saturn').
- 3. It reaches Earth in the form of a mixture of Archetypal Information and Cosmic Subject (Planet). It then creates a combination of the plane on which this energy operates and the type of consciousness (e.g., Saturn in Aries a combination of the Planet and Aries consciousness).

WHAT IS THE ZODIAC ANYWAY?

Wikipedia provides the following definition: "Zodiac (Latin: zōdiacus from Greek ζωδιακός κύκλος "circle of little animals", κύκλος "circle" and ζώδιον neuter of ζῷον "animal") - a belt in the celestial sphere in the plane of the ecliptic, approximately 16° wide. Within its area, the Sun, visible from Earth, completes a full circuit during the year. In astrology, the full angle (360°) is divided into 12 equal parts, hence the recognition of 12 astrological signs corresponding to 12 zodiacal constellations (in contrast to modern astronomy, which considers 13 constellations intersecting the ecliptic). Currently, due to the precession phenomenon, the original Western zodiacal division significantly deviates from actual observations (the time the Sun enters a specific constellation), and it may even be entirely disjointed."

In this passage, we see that the Zodiac is a celestial belt where the Sun moves over the course of a year against the background of different constellations. Note that the division of the Zodiac into Zodiac Signs in the Western system was established at the beginning of the system's existence and does not align with the actual (astronomical) positions of constellations in the sky. In the tropical (Western) system, a planet in the sign of Aries begins when the planet is in the part of the Zodiac defined as the Aries sign, whereas in the Vedic (stellar) system, a specific part of the Zodiac always starts in the same place as the constellation of the respective sign. More about these systems can be found in the attached link below.

SYSTEM CALLED

SIDEREAL:

WHAT IS. SIDEREAL SYSTEM?

It is an astrological system that is used to calculate the position of planets in signs, in accordance with the phenomenon of planetary precession. In this way, the actual position of the planets in the Sky is obtained.

WHAT IS EARTH'S PRECESSION?

This is a phenomenon that causes the Earth to change its angle of inclination relative to the Sky in a cycle lasting 26,000 years. An example result: in a few thousand years, the Polaris will no longer be the North Star.

CONSEQUENCES OF THIS PHENOMEN?

Znaki zodiaku ulegają stopniowemu, powolnemu przesunięciu na tle 26 tysięcy lat. W związku z tym cały zodiak przesuwa się i np. Lew, który był znakiem sierpniowym, przesuwa się stopniowo w kierunku jesiennym.

CONSEQUENCES OF USING THIS SYSTEM. ?

The position of the planets in this system does not coincide with the position of the planets in the popular tropical system. Example: in our system, Venus is in Aquarius, while in the Western system, Venus is already in Pisces.

FROM MY EXPERIENCE:
THIS SYSTEM WORKS
BETTER!

PERSPECTIVE OF THE AGE OF AQUARIUS

EVERYTHING IS AN EVOLUTION!

Since the Earth has been in the Age of Aquarius for about 11-200 years (according to the planetary precession cycle), we live in times when we are experiencing enormous technological and scientific development. This era strives to verify all government structures, unite all humanity, open up to diversity, freedom and uniqueness of individuals. Its goal is a huge expansion of awareness, appreciation of the beauty of individualism and the need to build social groups. This is an era of significant development of consciousness and that is why the theme of evolution becomes the main lens (the filter through which we look) for the next two millennia (that is how long this era will last). This is important because during it we will look at the entire Zodiac as a Mandala of the Evolutionary Program. The Zodiac signs create subsequent phases of development. This mandala is a fractal that represents every aspect of reality. Each zodiac sign represents the next stage of Life on the Planet. The Zodiac Sign Mandala represents the Instruction Guiding the Life Processes of the Planet. It is a Higher Program that manages a given local reality. It is interesting that in each Star System we deal with different zodiac signs. What's more - in one system they may be different, depending on the planet and its orbit! Life can take many forms! This is extraordinary!

The Mandala of the Evolutionary Program influencing the Earth looks as follows: Aries symbolizes the beginning, birth and emergence of individuality. Taurus represents the materialization and experience of having something. Next come Gemini, who explore their surroundings and want to learn as much as possible about it. Cancer focuses on creating an emotional relationship with the environment and building security in one's life. Leo is the phase of achieving certainty of one's identity and exploring life in the form of play and art. Virgo shows that everything achieved can be improved and that service has great value. Libra redirects energy outwards. Maybe it's worth connecting with others, just as cells once connected with each other to form larger organisms. This is an important stage of evolution when "me and you" counts. Identity may be somewhat lost in favour of the emergence of something new. After Libra comes Scorpio, showing that some questions can only be answered in the depths of our own psyche and that the journey through life requires courage and perseverance. Sagittarius is the stage of evolution where we look for higher truth, the meaning of events and choose to believe in order to create something better. Capricorn reminds us that faith alone is not enough and we need something lasting and stable that will help us manage not only ourselves, but our community. Aquarius is a sign that brings the need for equality of individuals, ideological improvements and the need to form groups. Pisces completes the mandala by showing that separateness introduced by Aries has always been an illusion, and we are all part of the Spiritual Ocean of Oneness. Pisces reconnects us with the entire Cosmos, with no boundaries.

EXAMPLES OF THIS MANDALA IN LIFE:

Cyprian Graczyk, a Polish astrologer, provided excellent examples of such mandalas in his course. Among them is the process of learning a language, starting with the verb "to be," then progressing to "to have," and only later mastering the rest. Similarly, the example of work was given, where one must first take the initiative to enter a new place, settle in, establish initial relationships, and only then approach others. Another example he mentioned is the creation of an empire, which begins with conquest, then defining territory, building a community, fostering closeness and security, and only later developing national pride, optimising a functional system, international cooperation, overcoming crises, seeking meaning, building political structure, returning to brotherhood and social interconnectedness, and spiritual renewal. Each country symbolically goes through successive zodiacal eras. Cyprian also emphasises the importance of qualitative analysis. Successive cardinal signs continue the theme of building identity, doing so on different elemental planes. The following mutable signs continue the process of healing, while fixed signs strengthen their structures and establish specific paths for evolution. The Zodiac is visible in all aspects of our lives.

CARDINAL FIRE (SPARK)

ARIES

RULER: MARS

14 APRIL - 14 MAY

TO BE, INITIATE & ACT

CARDINAL FIRE (SPARK)

"I SEPARATE FROM UNITY"

Aries is a fire sign, so it is active and focused on its identity (strives to express it).

Aries is a fiery cardinal sign, so it likes to act as a leader, controlling ventures and the directions in which they go. Initiates activities and starts projects. It is enterprising sign that controls the flow of energy. It is a trigger for new projects. It likes to set the example of proactivity.

First step of evolution:

The Mandala of the Earth Evolution Program begins with this Zodiac Sign. It initiates a New Astrological Cycle. The consciousness of Aries symbolises the individuation from the whole. It marks the commencement of the Separation Game, where we actively explore who we are. It's the moment when a child looks in the mirror, starts identifying with the physical body-form, and learns its name. Aries discovers itself through trials, actions, and experiences. As a cardinal quality, it seeks to prove to itself that it can, and as a fiery sign, that its identity matters. Aries wants to emphasise individuality through focus, drive, passion, and expenditure of tremendous energy. One could say that Aries is the New Beginning, the Birth of a new version of oneself. The consciousness of Aries does what it wants, facing challenges. It operates in harmony with its own will and natural instincts, even though some of them bring challenging consequences.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this sign is learning one's individuality through fulfilling desires and needs. As Aries lies in opposition to the Libra sign, it needs to learn to consider the needs of other people and allow them to be themselves. Aries needs to understand that everyone is different and unique - one should not manage others against their will. Aries needs to learn to admit to its weaknesses, failures, and mistakes. It should gauge its capabilities and responsibly bear the consequences of its actions. It needs freedom but should find a balance between its freedom and allowing freedom for everyone else. It cannot be that its freedom restricts others! The last lesson of this sign is distinguishing physical desires of the ego from the call of its soul, which seeks fulfilment. How to differentiate pleasure from life satisfaction? Aries must find the answer to this question.

More about Aries

This archetype values honesty, courage, and directness. It embodies self-confidence, a belief in infallibility, and sometimes narcissism. This sign may struggle with admitting mistakes or failures. It marks the beginning of a new cycle, and it's worthwhile to focus on new life rather than problems. The Aries archetype knows what it wants and goes for it without unnecessary analysis. Its fiery nature dislikes constraints and opts for intense emotions such as enthusiasm, anger, passion, and desire. Aries is a sign that directs its intuition toward action, acting on impulse and being highly reactive. Conclusions are drawn only after taking successive steps, rarely analysing them beforehand. It acts on the spur of the moment, temptation, or desire. Aries is a warrior hungry for experiences, pushing all boundaries, and risking to discover life and oneself.

Ruler (+5): Mars Exaltation (+4): Sun Detriment (-4): Venus Fall (-5): Saturn

DIGNITIES

Mars is the ruler of Aries, infusing it with powerful ego desires, temptations, cravings, and instincts. Aries is a warrior geared towards conquest and expressing identity.

The Sun is in its exaltation here, allowing Aries to invest an enormous amount of energy, sometimes leading to burnout. A self-centered focus on risk occasionally puts Aries' life at stake in pursuit of excitement.

Venus is in detriment, as Aries often overlooks others' needs and can be too combative in relationships. Desires take precedence over harmony.

Saturn is in its fall, leading Aries to push boundaries, act irresponsibly, and express surprise at facing consequences for fulfilling human desires. Aries sometimes lacks maturity and lives too much in the moment, ignoring the law of karma.

Triplicity is found in Jupiter or the Sun, resulting in two primary subtypes of Aries.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They want to act independently and autonomously.
- They invest a lot of energy in focusing on their own desires, aspirations, cravings, and pursuits.
- They act in accordance with their own natural instincts and what they want.
- They have a narrow perspective and are highly subjective.
- They lack awareness of others' needs.
- They are often surprised that their instinctive, impulsive, and passionate actions have unpleasant consequences.
- At a lower level of consciousness, this may result in arrogance, selfishness, ignorance, and a belief in infallibility.
- At a higher level, they are characterised by courage, authenticity, and straightforwardness.
- They can bring sincerity, enthusiasm, action, joy, freedom, self-determination, and courage.
- They should learn to distinguish between ego cravings and expressing the authentic nature of the spirit.

In response to a threat, Aries reacts by impulsively making decisions, taking action, challenging, exploding, or launching a direct attack.

FIXED EARTH (SOIL)

TAURUS

RULER: VENUS

15 MAY - 15 JUNE

FIXED EARTH (SOIL)

"I STABILISE MY WORLD"

Taurus is an earth sign, making it passive, receptive, and focused on the physical, material aspects of life.

Taurus is also a fixed sign, attempting to create a stable material environment by accumulating matter (including objects, money, and food). When they achieve a sufficient level of stability, they share the world of matter and senses with others.

Second step of evolution:

Aries conquered the world. Taurus arrives at a point where it wants to create some stability around itself. Taurus seeks to build a safe haven and settle down. The combination of the fixed quality and the earth element gives this archetype the energy of stability, routine, and concreteness. Taurus aims to determine its value in a tangible and visible way. It wants to channel its previously impulsive (in Aries) creativity into something enduring. On one hand, this leads to good aesthetic abilities and a sense of beauty, but on the other, it carries the risk of identifying with what one possessions or becoming obsessed with stability. This stage in the Evolution Program Mandala on Earth focuses on creating stability, which can sometimes be perceived as stubbornness or resistance to change. Taurus wants to build a secure environment where nothing surprises it. This archetype seeks to create and manage its settlement (its world) and knows every corner of it.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this sign is to learn to create a stable environment and stay in touch with one's values and needs. Since Taurus is in opposition to the Scorpio sign, it needs to learn to delve deeper into relationships with itself and others. It is valuable for Taurus to learn to invite more spiritual depth into its world, treating physical closeness as an opportunity for unity with a partner, not just sensory pleasure. Taurus needs to learn greater flexibility and strengthen the power of its will to resist every physical whim. It needs to find a balance between stability and positive change. important lesson that Taurus The last encounters is discovering the difference between pleasure and life happiness. Pleasure is fleeting, and happiness is not ephemeral. Living in harmony with one's priorities will help in distinguishing between the two.

More about Taurus:

This archetype prioritises permanence, stability, predictability, and having its own territory. This sometimes results in delaying important changes because "one needs to prepare for them." Taurus, as a fixed energy, rarely deviates from the chosen course. Gradually and slowly, it plans the next steps into the future to avoid surprises at any stage (it values control). This type of awareness avoids spontaneity and risk because it wants to be grounded, stable, and enduring. It desires to be reliable. Taurus does not resonate with the fire element, which it considers too unpredictable. It also does not feel comfortable in the presence of the air element, as it finds it too abstract, non-concrete, and variable. It prefers the earth or water elements, which help achieve stability and routine. Emotions destabilise its sense of peace, but emotional closeness ensures the longevity of relationships.

Ruler (+5): Venus Exaltation (+4): Moon

Detriment (-4): Mars and Pluto Fall (-5): Uranus

DIGNITIES

Venus is the ruler of Taurus, infusing it with a strong sense of aesthetics, a need for harmony, and tranquility. Even though Taurus is not Venus' Mooltrikona, it possesses many of its qualities. Taurus focuses on prosperity, relaxation, and stable relationships.

The Moon is exalted in Taurus, making it overly attached to the sensory world and material possessions. This attachment may lead Taurus to prioritize survival and security more than others.

Mars and Pluto are in detriment here because Taurus tends to be calm and moves slowly towards its goals. This sign is quite susceptible to physical temptations and has a relatively low level of self-control.

Uranus is in fall in Taurus, and as a result, Taurus prefers what is predictable, stable, and gradual. It dislikes surprises and prefers when everything happens at the right pace.

Triplicity is in Venus or the Moon, creating two fundamental subtypes of Taurus.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They experience life through physical senses.
- They are inseparably connected to natural cycles.
- They feel discomfort in communication through language (words). They prefer body language.
- They are characterised by patience, stability, endurance, and practicality.
- They want to grow slowly, gradually, and at a steady pace.
- They have a well-developed sense of aesthetics, taste, and beauty.
- They value loyalty, sensitivity, and trust.
- They prefer classic or gentle forms of art.
- They are more prone to dependence on the material world, food, and sensory pleasure.
- They lack a bit of speed, courage, abstraction, flexibility, initiative, and enthusiasm.
- They are strongly focused on their own worth and need tangible results.
- They lack willpower and can sometimes be stagnant.

When faced with a threat, Taurus responds through stubbornness, resistance to change, defense, caution, or early preparation (securing oneself "just in case").

MUTABLE AIR (WIND)

GEMINI

RULER: MERCURY

16 JUNE - 16 JULY

TO CONNECT, THINK & SPEAK

MUTABLE AIR (WIND)

"I CONNECT WITH PEOPLE"

Gemini is an air sign, so they are focused on words and thoughts. They are changeable and open to social contacts.

Gemini is a mutable sign, so they like to change their minds and thinking. They like talking to different people and looking for new ideas - this is how they heal their personal spirituality. This sign has two minds, which help them see more options, possibilities and paths, but reduce their concentration.

Third step of evolution:

Once Taurus has created a physically stable environment, it's time to get to know the area, the other beings living there, and gather the information you need. The Gemini archetype is an explorer who wants to expand its thinking horizons and understand the world around it. What counts is what is close and nearby. There is no point in expanding knowledge at this stage. It is better to absorb a lot of it, but at a general level. It is good to open up to acquaintances and learn who serves us and who development. Gemini cognition and intellectual understanding. They represent the time when we form our opinions and draw conclusions. This archetype does this through a duality perspective. Gemini likes to jump between extremes - they discover where the truth is and where are the extremes that create problems. This archetype favours inquiry, exploration, and understanding over action or stabilization. It is an active explorer.

Main lessons:

The main lesson for Geminis is to acquire new information, open up to new possibilities, and follow their curiosity. This archetype thrives on sensations, but it can lead to gossip and talking behind others' backs. Geminis must unlearn this behaviour as it has consequences. Another crucial aspect is learning to speak only the truth. They learn the importance of honesty and that, while exploring various options, it's essential to remain truthful in every relationship. The Gemini archetype is opposite to Sagittarius, and therefore, individuals born under this sign must learn to distinguish between universal truth and personal belief. Due to their inherent variability, they should also learn to maintain focus for a longer time and confront problems rather than escape from them. Intellect should be a support, not a means of self-deception. Embracing diverse perspectives should help them find a balance in life and discover a greater meaning in unfolding situations.

More about Gemini

This archetype is the fastest of all energies. It is interested in the immediate surroundings, superficial information, and is focused on satisfying the mind curious about the world. The speed of this energy makes it impatient and it doesn't like delving too deeply into one subject for too long. It often jumps from one topic to another, and it's challenging for it to choose one direction. Geminis absorb information and share it with others, helping to build short-term mental Their primary goal is the exchange of information rather than emotional bonds. The abundance of information allows this sign to adapt well to various situations. It is socially attractive and enhances certain abilities, such as ease in making connections, creating content, and building understanding. Geminis find and seize opportunities. They are focused on logic and cause-andeffect relationships. Rationality plays a crucial role here.

Ruler (+5): Mercury Exaltation (+4): Rahu

Detriment (-4): Jupiter Fall (-5): Ketu

DIGNITIES

Mercury rules Gemini, making them incredibly mentally active. They gather vast amounts of information and enjoy sharing it in their diverse relationships. They are interested in connectivity and exploring the surroundings.

Rahu (North Lunar Node, shadow planet) is exalted here, causing Gemini to excessively conform to surrounding social trends and seek quick wealth. This may lead to insincerity or various manipulative behaviors.

Jupiter is in detriment in Gemini because it seeks deeper understanding, meaning, and a philosophical approach to life, while Gemini collects and shares superficial information. They are not concerned with deeper meanings.

Ketu (South Lunar Node, shadow planet) is in fall here, and as a result, Gemini, instead of focusing on the spiritual purpose of life and Moksha, skims the surface in mental dispersal.

The triplicity is in Saturn or Mercury, creating two basic subtypes of Gemini.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They are looking for answers, new possibilities and more options.
- They broaden their horizons through a wealth of experiences, new social contacts and a greater number of different points of reference.
- They are motivated by curiosity, the desire to understand and the need for intellectual stimulation.
- They find their energy in company.
- They are curious about the world in a form that can be researched, named and analysed.
- They have divisible but dispersed energy.
- They are characterised by multitasking, stimulation and arousal.
- They lack depth and rationalise their feelings.
- They are guided by rationality and logic.
- They may be devoid of value, driven by haste.
- They let go and get rid of attachments more easily.
- They escape into the world of entertainment, company and intellect.
- They are looking for simple and easily accessible solutions.

Gemini responds to threats by distracting, relieving tension with humor, avoiding, escaping, lying, or changing the subject.

CARDINAL WATER (RIVER)

CANCER

RULER: THE MOON

17 JULY - 16 AUGUST

I FEEL, CARE & GETTING CLOSER

CARDINAL WATER (RIVER)

"I BOND WITH OTHERS".

Cancer is a water sign, making it receptive, passive, and focused on its internal emotional world.

Cancer is a cardinal sign, so it enjoys controlling intimacy, the home environment, and emotions there. It is enterprising and uses its emotions (both positive and negative) to initiate emotional bonds with others. It likes to set the pattern for emotional intimacy.

Fourth step of evolution:

After surveying the surroundings, building superficial acquaintances, and gathering basic information about the world, it's time to build something more lasting between people. It's time to create deep emotional bonds that will help achieve emotional security. The Mandala of the Evolution Program on Earth now directs its attention to psychological comfort and the stability of the home environment. As a cardinal sign, Cancer seeks its identity through emotional relationships with other beings or places. It does this by initiating interdependence and deepening its relationships. To make this possible, dissolving boundaries between people, closeness, and fostering mutual trust are crucial. How can this be achieved? It is worthwhile to take care of what is important to us and create a bond based on sharing something. Cancer is the first in the cycle that feels the consequences of Aries separating from Unity. It longs for unity with another being.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of the Cancer Archetype is to learn how to build emotional intimacy in relationships with other beings and places. It is important for Cancer to learn to do this without creating love that is dependent, while maintaining a certain level of individualism. The bond should not be based on the fear of loneliness or loss, and there should be no emotional manipulation in it. Cancer should learn closeness in the name of love, not in the name of safety. Bonds should be maintained for reasons, not at any cost. relationships should be terminated, and the sensitive points of other people should not be exploited. Cancer needs to learn a greater level of independence, freedom, and release the fear of abandonment. It is important to find closeness with one's spiritual nature and the place of life. Creating a home space, taking care of animals or children can be helpful. It is worthwhile to direct this energy.

More about Cancer

This archetype needs closeness with others to feel fully themselves. Often, it believes that it takes care of everyone's emotional well-being around it, while in reality, it seeks to satisfy its own need for emotional comfort. Cancer opens up to dependence, and it is hard for them to understand that support and love received from others are not the only way to meet emotional needs. When Cancer feels secure, they take care of their environment and loved ones. They become sentimental, dreamy, and emotionally deep. When Cancer loses security, they motivate themselves to act, but fear and anxiety lead them to irrational decisions that rarely yield good results. Fear is not a good advisor. It would be worthwhile to learn to act actively from a place of courage. When Cancer attaches to someone or something, they become loyal and devoted. They value traditions, memory, family, and honor.

Ruler (+5): Moon Exaltation (+4): Jupiter Detriment (-4): Saturn Fall (-5): Mars

DIGNITIES

The Moon is the ruler of Cancer, creating a strong need for security and emotional closeness. Additionally, there are also subconscious fears present here.

Jupiter is in exaltation here, causing Cancer individuals to greatly exaggerate emotional situations or strongly believe in relationships, no matter what. It enhances their dreaminess and visionary tendencies.

Saturn is in detriment, as Cancer individuals struggle to set boundaries and are inconsistent in their dealings with loved ones. They lack specific assertiveness.

Mars is in fall, as this planet requires individuality and independence, while Cancer values emotional dependencies with others above all. It lacks personality and forms it more in relationships. Cancer prefers taking care of others rather than fulfilling its own desires.

The triplicity is only in Mars, causing Cancer individuals to have unconscious, egotistical motives.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They operate on an unconscious, emotional and energetic level.
- They are motivated by forming emotional bonds with places or other beings (including people).
- They blur the boundaries between themselves and others.
- They are proactive and confront problems.
- They may be defensive, preventive, cautious, protective or paranoid.
- They want connection (Cancer is the first water sign in the cycle that wants to return to Oneness).
- They are sensitive to external stimuli and filled with compassion.
- They are highly subjective and have a weak sense of individuality. They lack boundaries.
- When they feel safe, they become dreamy, insightful and visionary. Moreover, they take care of others.

Cancer responds to threat by hiding, withdrawing, manipulating or preemptively attacking emotionally and maintaining certain feelings.

FIXED FIRE (WARMTH)

LEO

RULER: THE SUN

17 AUGUST - 16 SEPTEMBER

FIXED FIRE (WARMTH)

"I CELEBRATE MYSELF AND MY LIFE"

Leo is a fire sign, which means it is active and focused on its identity (striving to express it).

Leo is a fixed sign, so it likes to express itself in a stable manner. Leo accumulates vital energy and its own identity. When it reaches an appropriate level of energy, it shares it with others. Leo shares its warmth, charisma, and character, encouraging the celebration of oneself.

Fifth step in evolution:

After Cancer has built a sense of emotional comfort and have created place like home, the archetype of Leo invites us to celebrate our achievements, enjoy life, to create art, and express divinity in the safe physical world. It's time for fun, passion, and self-appreciation. The Mandala of the Earth Evolution Program takes another fiery step - Leo, as the second fire sign, Leo emerges with its individuality into the world. Leo shows its talents to others. It takes pride in what it has achieved and wants to play with form, realising that it possesses creative potential. However, with taking this step, the fear of criticism arises. What if the world doesn't accept me for who I am? What if not all opinions I hear are positive? How to strengthen my character? Such questions arise at this stage of the Mandala of the Earth Evolution Program. Leo wants to shine bright but is not sure whether others will see it the same way.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this archetype is adopting the perspective of the God within and learning to celebrate life through passions, playfulness, and appreciation. It teaches us that we are Divine Sparks that can express themselves artistically and possess wonderful creative potential. They can manifest their goals and build their identity with them. Leo needs to learn that, regardless of what others say, it should continue to be itself. Its lesson is to build a stronger character and admit mistakes along the way. They shape the person and strengthen them on their journey. Another lesson is understanding and releasing shame. Leo tries to protect our sensitivity, but our sensitivity doesn't have to be understood by everyone. What we sometimes feel ashamed of, we need to learn to live with and express for our own comfort, not for the audience. Leo learns not to prioritise fame and recognition over self-love. It's worth noting that each person is a Unique Divine Spark.

More about Leo:

The archetype of Leo seeks recognition, appreciation, and attention from others. It wants others to look at its achievements, approve them and praise them! As a fixed energy, there is a tendency to feel that its own individuality may not be sufficient. This leads Leo to behave somewhat artificially and showy. Drama, excessive self-absorption (in extreme cases narcissism), and exaggeration emerge, all to get the attention it desires. The archetype of Leo at a higher vibrational level knows that the Creator expresses itself through them and that they deserve love, warmth, comfort, and pleasure. At a lower level, it pursues these matters too desperately, unaware that it deserves them. It then claims certain rights but does not respect them within itself. The lower level involves pride, shame, a sense of mediocrity, and masking these feelings. Leo stubbornly accumulates energy within itself and sometimes erupts.

Ruler (+5): Sun Exaltation (+4): Pluto

Detriment (-4): Saturn & Uranus Fall (-5): Rahu

DIGNITIES

The Sun rules Leo, creating a great need in them to express themselves and shine their light with integrity. Leo celebrates the Divinity within themselves and enjoys being in the spotlight. They are incredibly creative.

Pluto is in exaltation here, making Leo a natural leader. They don't take orders well and dislike being diminished. Leo likes to be distinguished and values praise while defending their reputation. They indulge sensually.

Saturn is in detriment here. Leo dislikes restrictions and difficulties, wanting to express themselves freely. Uranus is also in detriment, and Leo excessively focuses on themselves, following trends instead of individuality.

Rahu is in fall here, causing Leo not to think excessively about the future. They indulge in the present moment. Glory, art, and humanism are more important to them.

Triplicity is in Jupiter or the Sun, creating two fundamental Leo subtypes.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They want to express themselves authentically and strongly.
- Sometimes they act for show, seeking excessive attention.
- They can be exaggerated, dramatic and bend their character to suit the audience.
- At a higher level of consciousness, they are fully authentic and strongly manifest their energy. They radiate it to others.
- They inspire others with their enthusiasm, warmth and joyful approach to matters.
- They don't act rashly. They prefer to wait, accumulate energy and express it pompously and spectacularly.
- They express themselves steadily and majestically.
- They want to shine, be visible and recognized.
- They are expressive, creative and imaginative.
- They can be stubborn, inflexible and uncompromising.
- They take criticism hard.
- They need to know their standards and live in accordance with them (integrally and coherently).

Leo reacts to threats by resisting, asserting itself and with an outburst of dramatic, theatrical emotions and behavior.

MUTABLE EARTH (SAND)

VIRGO

RULER: MERCURY

17 SEPTEMBER - 17 OCTOBER

MUTABLE EARTH (SAND)

"I IMPROVE AND HEAL MYSELF"

Virgo is an earth sign, so it is passive and focused on the physical aspect, practicality, and functionality.

Virgo is a mutable sign, so it likes to analyse and verify the effectiveness of different options. It explores the connection between the body and mind and the concept of physical health. Virgo seeks efficiency and improvement at a practical level. It has a very active mind (ruled by Mercury).

Sixth step of evolution:

brought the celebration of Leo achievements, and fun, while Virgo reminds us everything can be perfected, that moderation is essential in play. The lion's pride has been tamed, and in its place, humility has emerged. Having fun is great, but it doesn't contribute anything lasting to this world, so Virgo reminds us of the value of work, discipline, and a sense of duty. Virgo represents a stage in the Evolution Program Mandala on Earth where understanding how the Mind connects with the Body and what Health is becomes crucial. This archetype teaches us about the necessity of finding a balance between the body and the psyche. It does so by medicine, exploring diets, Ayurveda, alternative healing methods, etc. Anything that helps soothe the mind and body is valuable. Virgo emphasizes order, cleanliness, and organization. Such values not only heal us but also benefit other people. Service is essential because some people need help.

Main lessons:

The main lesson is to learn the value of service, discipline, and health. Virgo needs harmonise the connection between the body and the mind and understand how these two elements influence each other. As its life revolves around improvement, it needs to comprehend that perfection is not the goal but the process itself. This archetype learns that not only logic matters in this world; it is just one pole (extreme by which the world can be judged). On the other pole, there is intuition and spirituality. Virgo also learns moderation in using its mind and the ability to relax. Organization and cleanliness are important, but peace of spirit and mind is even more crucial. This sign discovers that not everything can be named and defined, that some things are illogical or incomprehensible to the mind. Virgo should integrate and allow more intuition and spirituality into its life and learn patience.

More about Virgo:

This archetype emphasises the most practical, efficient, and economical use of material resources. Virgo loves to feel useful and functional. The priority is to streamline, organise, plan, and order. Virgo chooses practical solutions and concrete answers instead of seeking a deeper, spiritual meaning. It opts for a cool, objective assessment of situations over fun and laughter. At lower levels of consciousness, Virgo can be very critical, obsessive, compulsive, and lost in details. It then focuses on chasing perfection, postponing what is truly important. It takes on too many projects and becomes frustrated with the immense pressure that follows. It distances itself from the world and expresses a lot of criticism towards it. At higher levels, Virgo has a very precise memory and enjoys every moment, recognising its perfection. It helps others and assesses situations rationally. It perceives the needs of other people and can effectively serve with assistance.

DIGNITIES

Merkury jest władcą Panny, co sprawia, że ten znak jest analityczny, racjonalny i skupiony na Umyśle. Panna to piasek, a piasek potrafi być wywiewany przez Powietrze.

Merkury jest tutaj w egzaltacji, przez co Panna potrafi zwracać uwagę na wszelkie szczegóły i specjalizować się mocno w jakiejś dziedzinie. Merkury bywa tutaj nadmierny i może to prowadzić do obsesji, paranoi lub braku spokoju.

Jowisz i Neptun są tutaj w detrymencie, ponieważ Panna stawia na funkcjonalność, logikę i konkretność. Są to przeciwne bieguny w stosunku do intuicji, wizjonerstwa czy marzycielstwa, które nie są praktyczne.

Wenus jest tutaj w upadku, ponieważ Panna ceni pokorę i nie zależy jej na byciu zauważoną. Wybiera intelekt ponad uczucia i szuka perfekcji, zamiast harmonii. Jest to zbyt niespójne z planetą Wenus.

Troistość jest w Wenus lub w Księżycu i to sprawia, że istnieją dwa podstawowe podtypy Panny.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They feel a certain incompleteness and want to improve themselves.
- They are critical of each other.
- They need to learn that they are enough and perfect now, and perfection cannot be the goal.
- They pick up on all the details and like to specialise in a certain area.
- They are objective, critical and analytical.
- They are precise, logical and predictable.
- They want to feel needed and useful, they try to improve reality in a practical way.
- They sort out their quality.
- They are conscientious and disciplined.
- They are interested in efficiency and functionality.
- They seek healing in matters concerning the planet, or should seek it there.
- Sometimes they don't know when to finish something and let go, it's hard for them to close a project/cycle.

Virgo responds to threats through emotional distance, cold analysis, assessment of the situation, adaptation, improvement or criticism.

CARDINAL AIR (BREEZE)

LIBRA

RULER: VENUS

18 OCTOBER - 16 NOVEMBER

I COMPARE, RECONCILE & BALANCE

CARDINAL AIR (BREEZE)

"I SEE THE OTHER BEING"

Libra is an air sign, so it is active, focused on words, sociable, and rather superficial.

Libra is a cardinal sign, so it likes to control the atmosphere between people and the course of a romantic relationship. This sign initiates debates, analyses, and interactions on the level of verbal communication. It is enterprising and likes to set social trends (e.g., exemplary communication or style).

Seventh step of evolution:

Virgo worked hard and perfected various aspects of life, and Libra shows that we cannot go further alone. To achieve greater success, we need to work with others, recognise their needs, and open ourselves to perspectives that were foreign to us before. The Evolution Program reaches a point here where we express our identity in contact with another person, acknowledging their values and contributions. The archetype of Libra explores others' perspectives, analyses various possibilities, and weighs their value. It tries to assess which ideas, thoughts, and decisions are better and which are worse. Libra seeks a middle ground, which is needed when two beings with different energies meet. They need to find a harmonious point where their qualities can find common ground. Libra reminds us of the value of internal balance and tact in communication. Diplomacy, courtesy, grace, and tact are important. Beauty and gratitude are welcomed.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this sign is to consider the needs of the other person and maintain individuality in a relationship built between two people. Libra needs to learn balance and inner harmony. Its lessons are related to maintaining an aura of diplomacy, peace, tact, and grace. Libra learns that a relationship requires compromises, but it doesn't have to mean losing oneself. On the contrary! It's worth nurturing individuality in relationships with others and learning to make decisions. Creating both partner and romantic relationships is valuable for achieving more together. It's essential to find a golden mean in relationships and not forget about assertiveness. Libra should also know the difference between equality and justice. Not everything requires justice here and now. It's worth remembering karma and that what we deserve will eventually come to us (sooner or later), not necessarily NOW. Justice is important, but an obsession with it may not be healthy.

More about Libra:

Libra wants to understand itself through another person. This archetype is aware of the importance of cooperation, culture, and recognises the values of others. Compromise sometimes requires giving up its own desires, sometimes a part of its identity. Libra adopts elements from others to improve itself. It does this carefully as a personal study aimed at harmonising its identity. Libra examines, analyses, and considers the "for" and "against." It is interested in everything it can reflect upon, such as relationships with other people, art, science, etc. True balance for Libra is achieved when it stops doing something for show and connects with what is genuinely important to it—its own values. In addition, visible beauty and a harmonious emotional environment matter to Libra. It likes when things are pleasant. This can lead to excessive compromise or living in the illusion that "everything is fine." Harmony requires action.

Ruler (+5): Venus Exaltation (+4): Saturn Detriment (-4): Mars Fall (-5): Sun

DIGNITIES

Venus is the ruler of Libra, making this sign focused on relationships, aesthetics, and harmony. For Libra, beauty, love, and balance are essential.

Saturn is in exaltation here, causing Libra to have an obsession with justice and the law. Everything must be fair. Balance must be maintained at all costs. Unfortunately, this can be excessive.

Mars is in detriment here because Libra can be dependent on others, struggles with assertiveness, and sometimes loses its individualism. Additionally, Libra limits its spontaneity and avoids anger.

The Sun is in fall here, and as a result, Libra sometimes loses its identity and spontaneity in favor of good PR. This sign can be submissive and seeks itself based on relationships with other people.

Triplicity is in Saturn or Mercury, creating two fundamental subtypes of Libra.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They can look at situations from several different sides.
- They can develop objectivity by analysing different, often opposing perspectives.
- They have grace, politeness, good communication skills, tact and intuition.
- They have good taste and demand gratitude.
- Personal culture is important to them.
- They have opportunities to harmonise their environment.
- It is difficult for them to make a decision (low level of decision-making) and they are indecisive.
- They lack assertiveness.
- They have a lot of personal charm.
- They care about having good PR.
- They want to be well perceived, attractive and liked.

Libra responds to threats through diplomacy, mitigating the situation, debating, changing their mind (or attitude), persuading other people that they arex right, or negotiating.

FIXED WATER (GLACIER)

SCORPIO

RULER: MARS (*PLUTO)

17 NOVEMBER - 15 DECEMBET

I DESIRE, SEEK & REVEAL

FIXED WATER (GLACIER)

"I REVEAL WHAT IS HIDDEN"

Scorpio is a water sign, so it is receptive, passive, and focused on the inner world of emotions.

Scorpio is a fixed water sign and is associated with emotions - it holds on to certain feelings (even if they are not good). It accumulates emotional energy and then shares it with others (in the form of outbursts of intense emotions). It shares its emotional intensity.

Eighth step of evolution:

The Mandala of Evolution on Earth has reached understanding of others' needs relationships and created a harmonious atmosphere in the sign of Libra. Scorpio shows that true, deep human connection requires greater intimacy and emotional closeness. Each of us carries wounds or traumas, and they often surface in relationships. Some questions do not have answers on the surface. Sometimes, one must delve into the deep darkness and illuminate it with the light of consciousness to free oneself from challenging energy. Scorpio teaches us that life brings crises at times and requires courage from us. We must delve into our own psyche, and this requires stepping out of the comfort zone. Not everything in life is beautiful! Our shadows create holes in our field through which energy leaks. It is worthwhile to explore our subconscious secrets and regain lost power. It's time to regain control over our own lives.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this sign is to boldly open up to the depths of one's psyche, ask difficult questions, release dense emotions, and regain power by working with one's own shadows. Scorpio learns that it is important to trust life and go through the darkness, through the cave of one's own traumas and crises. This archetype learns surrender and acceptance; that life is not only about light. True intimacy requires overcoming one's own weaknesses and bravely transcending intense emotions. Scorpio should remember that they live in the physical world, and beyond the depths of emotions and crises, joy in life and enjoyment of its sensual values are also important. One can explore their psyche, connect with others, and release traumas without losing contact with the external world, material prosperity, physical comfort. One can find themselves spiritually while also being present in this world.

Więcej o Skorpionie

This archetype knows that all the answers await within ourselves. Scorpio's fixed quality means that it accumulates emotions that it must somehow learn to release (the ice must melt). Scorpio is a sign that crosses taboo boundaries, tries the forbidden fruit, and later bears the consequences. In this way, it learns about various intense energies and how to transform them. It experiences shame, powerlessness, guilt, and must confront them. This archetype is a time when one must stop fearing death, darkness, or the unknown and acknowledge them all. It's a time when we open ourselves to the necessity of energy transmutation and surpass our inner boundaries. Scorpio discovers the power of passion, true intimacy, and the value of courage. On a lower level, this sign hides its emotions and conceals reality through repression and keeping secrets. On a higher level, it is bold, passionate, intimate, and ready for transformation.

Ruler (+5): Mars & Pluto Exaltation (+4): Uranus

Detriment (-4): Venus Fall (-5): Moon

DIGNITIES

Mars and Pluto are the rulers of Scorpio, and this sign must bravely, with a focus on itself, delve into the depths of the psyche and transform challenging energies. It needs to overcome the darkness and reclaim its power through the learning of surrender.

Uranus is in exaltation here, turning the need for change into a necessity for transformation. Scorpio's emotions can be impulsive, sudden, and quite chaotic.

Venus is in detriment here because Scorpio focuses on its own inner world, crises, and difficult emotions, while Venus seeks harmony, peace, and pleasure.

The Moon is in its fall here because Scorpio transcends the comfort zone and immerses itself in challenging emotions, while the Moon seeks psychological comfort and peace. The Moon likes what is familiar, safe, and soothing.

Triplicity is only in Mars, making Scorpios courageous and possessing strong characters.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They struggle with their morality, feelings of guilt, and temptations.
- They try to tame desire.
- They are characterised by intensity and extremeness.
- They can be passionate and full of zeal.
- They are determined and boldly pursue their goals.
- They are motivated to discover inner truth.
- It is challenging for them to control desire or curiosity.
- They accumulate emotional energy and then explode when suppressing it is no longer possible.
- They are subjective and have a narrow, personal perspective.
- They are inflexible, quite fixed in their ways.
- They express emotions authentically or manipulate.
- They may excessively try to control reality and stubbornly avoid life difficulties or intense emotions by hiding them, keeping secrets.
- They may hold grudges and be hypersensitive.
- They can be passionate, courageous, powerful.

In response to a threat, Scorpio reacts through venomous attack, vigilance, gathering facts, strategic politics, isolation, apparent withdrawal, or counterattack.

MUTABLE FIRE (FLAME)

SAGITTARIUS

RULER: JUPITER

16 DECEMBER - 14 JANUARY

I BELIEVE, SEE & EXPAND

MUTABLE FIRE (FLAME)

"I SEEK UNIVERSAL TRUTH"

Sagittarius is a fire sign, so it is active and focused on its identity (striving to express it).

Sagittarius is a mutable fire sign. As a fire sign, it enjoys various adventures and experiments with its identity. It changes its identity by exploring the world and higher knowledge. Delving into it brings spiritual healing. Within Sagittarius, human nature battles with the animal (spirit with instinct).

Ninth step of evolution:

The Mandala of Evolution continues its quest for Truth, but this time it is not the inner and subjective truth (Scorpio) but the Cosmic Truth (higher). Sagittarius is the Archetype that discovers the power of faith as a tool to reach a place where it will find answers to existential, universal questions. This archetype explores the world with a broad perspective. Distant travels, deepening spiritual or philosophical knowledge, and opening up to adventures aid in this exploration. As a mutable sign, it may feel a certain incompleteness, motivating it to search for answers. As a fire sign, it wants to elevate the flame of its identity as high as possible, and this is facilitated by connecting with the cosmic and opening the mind. Sagittarius is seeker, traveler, a philosopher searching for a deeper purpose and meaning in life. This sign explores religion, literature, spirituality, and the depths of cosmic nature.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of this sign is to restrain human temptations and the desire for pleasure, redirecting attention towards the search for universal, higher truths. This sign learns moderation and visionary thinking. It learns higher knowledge and values the wisdom gained through various adventures, travels, and life situations. Sagittarius learns that it's not just about the destination but that the journey itself is the essence. There are many paths to discover the truth, not just one. Each individual is unique, and everyone discovers the cosmos in their own way. When Sagittarius understands the truth, it approaches seeing the world objectively. Another important lesson for this sign is taking responsibility for one's beliefs and words. It's not just about distant travel but also about close explorations and connections. It's valuable to have a social network. This sign should also learn to be honest and base conversations on facts rather than personal beliefs and desires.

More about Sagittarius

The symbolism of the centaur illustrates the duality of Sagittarius' nature – on one hand, it pulls toward animal instincts, and on the other, the spiritual perspective of an evolving human being. This archetype seeks objective truth, and when it feels it has found it, it likes to proclaim and teach others. Believing deeply in its idealism, it sometimes forgets how this impacts others. It can be idealistic but may forget that everyone has a different path and individuality. At a lower level, it has a sense of mental superiority, leading to moralising and attempts to "convert" others. It can be proud and stubbornly cling to its beliefs. At that point, it may focus on the pleasures of life, parties, and hedonism, becoming excessive and exaggerating. At a higher level consciousness, it becomes a sage, collecting life wisdom, proclaiming universal truth, and teaching others about it. It is full of visions, knowledge, and experiences.

Ruler (+5): Jupiter Exaltation (+4): Ketu Detriment (-4): Mercury Fall (-5): Rahu

DIGNITIES

Jupiter is the ruler of Sagittarius, making it a sign full of faith, optimism, and a desire to explore the world. Sagittarius is a visionary who wants to discover the truth.

Ketu is exalted here, giving Sagittarius a strong desire for development and finding a way to spiritual liberation. Ketu loves spiritual topics and sees life as a mission where we discover meaning.

Mercury is in detriment here because Sagittarius is a sign of faith and hope, not logic. Reasoning is not its strong trait, and it chooses to believe rather than think.

Rahu is in fall here because it favors the material world, money, and technology, while Sagittarius prefers liberation, independence, and a focus on spiritual and philosophical knowledge. Rahu combines how to master the material world, and Sagittarius seeks spiritual values.

Triplicity is in Jupiter or the Sun, creating two fundamental subtypes of Sagittarius.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They want to go beyond limitations, experience the unknown, travel physically and mentally.
- They have a high level of passion, sincerity, focus, enthusiasm, and optimism.
- They are spontaneous and full of faith.
- Motivated to broaden their perspective, gain knowledge, experience freedom, and above all, faith.
- They use faith to motivate themselves to fulfil their planetary goals.
- They lack objectivity, practicality, and agility.
- They want to experience freedom through the manifestation of purpose.
- They broaden their horizons.
- They can be instructive and convinced of their own rightness.

In response to a threat, Sagittarius reacts through a sudden attack, emotional outburst, escape, avoidance, brutal truth, or demanding honesty from others.

CARDINAL EARTH (ROCK)

CAPRICORN

RULER: SATURN

15 JANUARY - 12 FEBRUARY

I BUILD, MAINTAIN & ACHIEVE

CARDINAL EARTH (ROCK)

"I BUILD RESPONSIBLY"

Capricorn is an earth sign, so it is functional, practical, and focused on the material aspect of life.

Capricorn is a cardinal earth sign, so it likes to have control over the material world. It is entrepreneurial and leads its life towards tangible results. It likes to operate with money and manage others' physical actions. It enjoys setting trends in material prosperity.

Tenth step in evolution:

Sagittarius discovered the power of faith, ethics, morality, and manifestation. Unfortunately, it turns out that the world cannot be built solely on faith. Capricorn now reveals the world of discipline, ambition, and focus on results. The Mandala of Evolution Program now indicates the necessity of creating solid foundations, structure, and actions. This archetype symbolises opening up to material prosperity, self-sufficiency, and independence. Capricorn also symbolises governance as the structure on which the entire country is built. It represents order, rules, and regulations that help us create a system pushing us towards achieving our ambitions. Capricorn supports businessmen as they focus on money, prosperity, and independence. This archetype wants to see results. In a determined manner, it strives to establish authority within choosing strong ambitions methodically taking actions.

Main lessons:

Capricorn's main lesson is to discover that hard work, discipline, and structure can manifest true material prosperity and leave a lasting legacy. Despite of traditions, rules, control and listening to authorities being limiting, it helps build something enduring in our Capricorn learns how build solid to foundations, set principles in life, and impose limitations for their own good. In addition to its archetypal lessons, it should also learn to find time to relax and let go. Learning forgiveness and allowing oneself to have fun occasionally can add some flexibility that this sign lacks. Moreover, this archetype also learns to consider others. While independence and self-focus are beneficial for achieving goals and ambitions, human relationships require a level of interdependence and recognition of others' emotions.

More about Capricorn:

As an earth cardinal sign, Capricorn tries to find and express its identity on the physical (material) plane. It believes that by achieving the right status, realising specific ambitions, or building a respectable legacy, it will find itself. Capricorn approaches its life seriously and responsibly. It is decisive, stern, and quite critical of both itself and those close to it, leading to the accumulation of a sense of guilt. Capricorn is also a good leader or organizer, as it allocates work responsibly and can build efficient logistical systems. Rigor, hard work, and schedules are tools that help it achieve success. On the downside, this sign often experiences a sense of stagnation, a lack of joy, and difficulty in letting go. It seeks control over the structure to make life comfortable on the material level. Capricorn strives to physically improve reality.

Ruler (+5): Saturn Exaltation (+4): Mars Detriment (-4): Moon Fall (-5): Jupiter

DIGNITIES

Saturn rules over Capricorn, creating a need for hard work and the maintenance of structures (traditions, routines, discipline) within this sign. Saturn requires Capricorn to set boundaries, prioritise stability, and build something long-lasting.

Mars is in exaltation here, allowing Capricorn to invest an enormous amount of energy in its ambitions and goals. This sign can become overly self-focused, proud, and explosive when someone gets in its way.

The Moon is in detriment in Capricorn because this sign seeks independence, making it challenging to establish intimacy. It struggles with expressing emotions.

Jupiter is in fall in Capricorn, causing the sign to display pessimism and conservatism. Its perspective is subjective, and its mind is inflexible. Capricorn prefers goals, plans, and concrete steps over dreams and visions.

The motivation (triplicity) is in Venus or the Moon, creating two primary subtypes of Capricorn.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They can be strict and critical of themselves.
- They demand a lot from themselves. They are solid and consistent.
- They are characterised by rigor, discipline and specificity.
- They are motivated to act, make decisions and achieve.
- What motivates them depends on triplicity (for Venus it is the need for validation, for Moon it is physical security).
- They remain stable, mature, practical and reliable.
- They are strongly focused on their identity and want to contribute to society.
- They need clear and strong structures and boundaries. They defend their structures.
- They tend to be conservative, rigid and attached to laws, regulations and authorities.
- They tend to repeat old patterns.
- They perceive reality hierarchically.
- They can be stingy, greedy and judgmental of other people's status.

Capricorn responds to threats by confrontation, setting strong boundaries, seeking advice from authorities, and seeking advice from a mentor.

FIXED AIR (STORM)

AQUARIUS

RULER: SATURN (*URANUS)

13 FEBRUARY - 14 MARCH

I INVESTIGATE, INVENT & KNOW

FIXED AIR (STORM)

"I UNITE PEOPLE"

Aquarius is an air sign, so it is focused on the mental sphere, opening its mind to new ideas.

Aquarius is a fixed air sign, meaning it is associated with information and forms stable viewpoints. It accumulates information, creating ideologies, and when it reaches a certain level of stability, it shares them with others, forming a group based on these ideas.

Eleventh step in evolution:

Capricorn improved society by creating a hierarchical system of laws and regulations. Aquarius discovers that this method won't lead the world further. If we want to achieve progress as a group, we must open our minds, social care for equality, nurture our individualism and creativity, and remain with collective connected responsibility. Aquarius introduces innovations and enhances existing social structures. It creates groups that bring people together, fostering unity and solidarity. Prioritising equality brotherhood, and openness, uniqueness, Aquarius reminds us that everyone contribute something special the community, and individualism should not be excessively restricted. Aquarius shows that we are part of a collective consciousness, and each of us should contribute to a better future for the entire society. Let's distribute resources and help those in need.

Main lessons:

Aquarius, as a sign focusing on collective responsibility, must learn to balance between its own identity and individualism and not losing them for the sake of the group or ideas. Its main lesson is understanding how to remain true to oneself within a group of people and how to recognise both the group and each of its members individually. Aquarius learns how to create its own identity while remembering the responsibility for the group, which is the result of the energy of its members. This sign discovers the value of its uniqueness, which, through creativity, improves the entire society. Aquarius should learn that while emotional distance is good for managing a group, it can be harmful in intimate relationships. It also learns that thinking about and caring for the collective is valuable but can lead to deficiencies in its own identity. It's important for this sign to understand that individuality doesn't have to fit into society, and it can be expressed naturally and spontaneously, in harmony with oneself and without shame.

More about Aquarius:

As a fixed sign, Aquarius seeks its value in a society, looking for acceptance and approval of its individualism and unique traits in group of people. Belonging to some group is extremely important to it, but it usually achieves it only when it finds people aligned with its beliefs and ideologies. This archetype emphasizes reason, logic, and objective thinking to solve group problems. Along with this comes emotional distance because emotions can hinder a fair assessment of the situation. Aquarius has immense empathy for the world but lacks it in intimate relationships. This archetype wants to be mentally understood by society. It wants its ideology to be heard. Aquarius sometimes feels out of place in society and can be lonely. It is a visionary of the future learning about its individuality in a group of people. It has the potential to create communities that change the world for the better. It values originality and open minds and focuses on the future of society.

Ruler (+5): Saturn & Uranus Exaltation (+4): Rahu

Detriment (-4): Sun Fall (-5): Pluto

DIGNITIES

Saturn is the traditional ruler of Aquarius, instilling a strong need for structuring society and influencing its systems. Uranus, the modern ruler, prompts Aquarius to introduce innovations to the group. Aquarius is interested in individualism, extravagance, and originality.

Rahu is exalted in Aquarius, leading this sign to be scientific, fanatic, and focused on the future. It aims to improve the material world.

The Sun is in detriment in Aquarius, and Aquarius seeks its identity and acceptance from society. It lacks natural self-expression and self-focus.

Pluto is in fall in Aquarius, causing Aquarius to be intolerant of authority. It is a sign of rebellion, revolution, and does not adhere to widely accepted principles. Aquarius prefers to overthrow the government and give power to the group.

Triplicity is in Saturn or Mercury, creating two basic subtypes of Aquarius.

PLANETS IN OTHER ZODIAC SIGNS:

- They assess their value in the context of social usefulness.
- They love freedom, individualism, uniqueness and extravagance, but they also appreciate principles, rules and structures.
- At a lower level, they lack the balance between structure and innovation, which can lead to chaos, excessive rebellion and limitation. They may then be indifferent, cold or fanatical.
- At a higher level, they are tolerant, collectively intuitive and visionary. They work for the freedom and equality of individuals. They unite people.
- They develop objectivity, abstract thinking and approach emotional situations with distance.
- They have the ability to think logically, have independence of opinion and develop idealism based on it.
- They consider a relationship, group or society as a separate entity. They are altruistic.
- They have low levels of flexibility, practicality and emotional sensitivity.

Aquarius responds to threats by rebelling against the current situation, resisting, detaching emotionally, communicating the situation and creating a new mental space.

MUTABLE WATER (FOGGY OCEAN)

PISCES

RULER: JUPITER (*NEPTUNE)

15 MARCH - 13 APRIL

I SURRENDER, SACRIFICE & HEAL

MUTABLE WATER (FOGGY OCEAN)

"I UNITE WITH THE UNIVERSE"

Pisces is a water sign, so they are focused on the inner world of emotions and spirit. They are looking for a feeling of unity.

Pisces is a watery mutable sign, so this sign likes to change its emotions and does so by exploring the sea of potential. It looks at the cosmic perspective and looks for ways to spiritually heal itself and the world. In this sign, two Pisces fight each other. One clings to the past and unconsciousness, while the other wants to awaken spiritually.

Twelfth step of evolution:

The Mandala of Evolution reaches its final step. It is time to return to the connection with Cosmic Unity and gradually merge with it. After Aquarius helped unite people, it is now time to unite them with Nature and the Cosmos. Pisces show that we are part of a greater oneness - a universal consciousness referred to in various God, (such as Source, Cosmic wavs Consciousness, and others). Pisces seek this energetic connection using religion, spiritual and practices, healing, deep soul-level relationships. Pisces tune into the subtle world of energy and can see how the Universe speaks to them. They feel the connection with it, moving towards Unity and gradually letting go of their ego. This stage of evolution symbolises the completion of the cycle that Aries initiated. It is a time when we return to Unity, connect with the Oversoul, and flow in harmony with cosmic waves.

Main lessons:

The main lesson of the Pisces sign is the learning of spiritual service to the world, doing it with empathy and an open heart. Pisces learn to help brothers and sisters who suffer and follow the guidance of Divine Consciousness. They learn to love unconditionally and dream of a more beautiful world. Since they are a highly intuitive sign, an important lesson for them is to remember logic and common sense, so as not to be exploited and not to lose themselves in the physical world. It's crucial to consciously use power od dissociation when life becomes challenging, but never to escape. More to get clarity. Pisces learn to accept and to fully love, regardless of the situation. Since Pisces focus on the spiritual dimension, an important lesson for them is to find a balance between spiritual practices and living in the three-dimensional, physical world. They need to learn to be responsible in it and confront the challenges that arise on their path. Pisces need to practice spirituality in a healthy way.

More about Pisces:

As a mutable sign, Pisces feels the need for healing and closure of a certain cycle. Pisces have ethereal, scattered, elusive energy, sometimes manifesting through dissociation or merging with the Source of Love. Because their path is one of unity, empathy, and sacrifice, they may lack boundaries in relation to other people, sometimes not distinguishing their own energy from others. They may long for a sense of unity so much that they seek it in romantic movies, substances, or the world of fantasy (imagination). Pisces are so sensitive that they may sometimes build an illusion to avoid a high level of suffering and responsibility. On one hand, there is a tendency for self-sabotage, playing the victim and martyr, and on the other hand, there is deep faith, vision, spiritual feelings, healing on the deepest levels, dedication, forgiveness, and unconditional love. Pisces represent the path of Christ.

Ruler (+5): Jupiter / Neptune Exaltation (+4): Venus

Detriment (-4): Mercury Fall (-5): Chiron

DIGNITIES

Jupiter is the ancient ruler of Pisces, making them visionary and dreamy. Neptune is the modern ruler of Pisces, and that's why they are full of inspiration, sensitivity, and devotion.

Venus is exalted here, so Pisces seek love on the deepest, most spiritual level. It is unconditional love as the highest cosmic value.

Mercury is in detriment, as Pisces navigate their destiny using intuition, often abandoning reason, logic, or any form of analysis.

Mercury is in fall, and as a result, Pisces strive for complete detachment from the Mind, focusing fully on the Spirit and its Divine dimension. Pisces surrender to the guidance of Higher Consciousness and flow with the cosmic current. They choose spiritual devotion.

Mars as a Triplicity always represents motivation, making Pisces motivated by the desire to dissolve their ego.

PLANETS IN THIS ZODIAC SIGN:

- They lack individuality, practicality, focus, concentration, objectivity, structure and organisation.
- They are very emotional and lack boundaries.
- They absorb other people's emotions and energies. They have difficulty distinguishing what is mine and what is someone else's.
- They may be susceptible to escapism, falling into illusion, denial and emotional dependence in relationships or addiction.
- They act intuitively, under the influence of inspiration and emotions.
- They can be reactive due to their own traumas.
- They lack concentration, focus and discipline.
- They can deceive themselves by escaping into a fantasy world, which helps them avoid the pain and difficulties of life.
- They value art, artistic and emotional sensitivity.
- They have vivid imaginations and inspiring visions.

Pisces respond to threats through denial, escape into illusion, reactivity, surrender or dissociation (detachment from the body).

12 SPHERES OF LIFE

ASTROLOGICAL

HOUSES

AXES

There are 6 Astrological Axes that define certain polarities. Two of these axes are particularly important: the Ascendant-Descendant Axis and the Immum Coeli-Medium Coeli Axis.

- Houses 1 7 (Ascendant Descendant Axis): This axis defines the relationship with oneself and with others.
- Houses 2 8: This axis defines resources, opinions and the way they come to our lives.
- Houses 3 9: This axis represents perspectives, comfort zone, believes and looking for truth.
- Houses 4 10 (Imum Coeli Medium Coeli Axis): This axis indicates the direction of action (private or public).
- Houses 5 11: This axis involves creativity (personal or collective).
- Houses 6 12: This axis involves service and healing (physical or spiritual).

MOST IMPORTANT...

As I mentioned, the most important are the Ascendant-Descendant Axis and the Immum Coeli-Medium Coeli Axis. The Ascendant is the point in the sky that is most eastern at the time of birth, determined by the constellation closest to the eastern horizon. The Descendant is on the opposite, western side of the sky. The Medium Coeli (MC) is the point most southern in the sky, and on the opposite side is the Immum Coeli (IC), which is most northern.

Unlike planets, Axes are abstract phenomena - they don't exist physically. Planets are living, conscious sources of energy that influence us on various life planes. Axes, on the other hand, mark points that can be used to facilitate the interpretation of planets. Axes designate so-called sensitive points in the horoscope. They don't cause anything to happen, but they are places where something may occur, especially if a planet is located there or makes an aspect to these points. The conjunction is particularly strongly felt. Horoscopic axes are gates that connect us with the external world. The Ascendant is the front gate (what others see). The Descendant is the back exit, where loved ones come for a party. The MC is the top of the house - a balcony from which we can see the achievement of the entire house, representing our entire life. The IC is the basement, a private place and part of the foundations of this house. This is where supplies are stored, and only a few have access to it. Planets near the Ascendant and MC are most strongly felt.

WHAT OTHERS SEE OR PROJECT

ASCENDENT

ASC

This is a very important element of the horoscope. The external world expects you to be your Ascendant, and you expect the world to be as the energy of your Ascendant. However, the Ascendant is only your mask - an avatar that you create on the surface. The Ascendant represents your physical body, style of dressing, posture, attitude toward the world, and image. When others get to know you, they see the Ascendant first, its ruler, and the planet that is in conjunction with it (if any). The more confident you feel in your environment, the more your Ascendant fades away, and the energy of Mars and the Sun becomes visible.

Analysing the basic dignity of the Ascendant allows you to understand more about which elements of your personality are visible. Ascendant analysis should always be done in the context of Sun analysis. The Ascendant is the avatar of the Sun (its garment). If the Sun and Ascendant have consistent zodiac signs (or elements), it is easier to maintain balance with the external world. If these elements or signs are not harmonious, people may expect qualities from you that you do not possess. Some may feel disappointed upon closer acquaintance because their expectations and impressions do not align with reality. People then realize that you are completely different than you initially appeared. This can build pressure to become more of your Ascendant "for the audience." Don't do this because the Sun provides you with the fuel, not the Ascendant!

SIGN & THE RULER

The Zodiac sign in which the Ascendant falls shows how you present yourself externally. It represents your packaging, your avatar, your aura—how others see you. It indicates your physical condition, body structure, external appearance, and the impression you create. It also encompasses your style of dress and how you behave in new situations or with new people.

The Ruler of the Ascendant is also known as the Ruler of the Chart. This is a crucial planet in your journey to happiness. It doesn't mean that it has to be the most important, but it holds significant value. When you integrate the energy of this planet, you achieve a greater sense of fulfillment and happiness. This planet shows which parts of you are visible at first glance. When you master the positive expression of this planet, you gain a better reception from your surroundings. It may seem like you should focus on this planet, but that's not necessarily the case. It's worth checking in which House the Ruler of the Ascendant is placed because this House is also quite visible to others. The zodiac sign in which the Ruler is located reveals more traits that contribute to your personality. These traits can be low or high vibrational, depending on the level of consciousness. However, people interpret these traits through the lens of their own level. For example, boundaries might be perceived as selfishness. Others see us from the level at which they themselves exist on.

ASC & PLANETS

Attention! When you compare the position of the Ruler of the Ascendant with the Ruler of the Midheaven (MC), you will see your relationship with your mother. When compared with the Ruler of the Third House, it represents the relationship with siblings. When compared with the Ruler of the Fourth House, it represents the relationship with the father. For example, if he is like Mercury, and you are like Saturn, these are the relationships between rulers! Look at the compatibility of elements, signs, and planets. Examine the aspects between the rulers of specific houses!

Now, let's talk a bit about planets in conjunction with the Ascendant. They have a significant impact on your personality and external appearance. Others clearly see them in you. In some ways, you appear to be an Avatar of the planet that is in conjunction with the Ascendant. This planet can also cause other people to project its bright and dark sides onto you (for example, in the case of Saturn, they might project responsibility or a lack thereof). If the planet in conjunction with the Ascendant is in the Twelfth House, you probably are not aware of it, even though others see it. If the conjunction occurs within the First House, you are aware of it and identify with its energy. It's useful to check the degree at which the First House begins and consult the Dignity Table. The more points a particular planet has, the more it influences the Ascendant.

ASPECTS

Finally, it's worth talking about the aspects involving the Ascendant. When it comes to the Ascendant, I mainly consider the sextile (60 degrees), square (90 degrees), trine (120 degrees), quincunx (150 degrees), and opposition (180 degrees). We'll delve into aspects more in an advanced course. In short, aspects are geometric angles formed between planets or planets and points in the horoscope. Depending on the type of aspect (angle size), we can expect different interactions between two objects (planet - planet, planet - horoscope point). Planets that form aspects with the Ascendant either facilitate or hinder your self-expression. They influence your presence, expectations of the world, and the expectations others have of you. They also affect your physical condition and vitality. For example, if Venus (the planet of relationships, values, self-esteem, validation) forms an aspect with your Ascendant, Venusian issues become visible quite quickly. Even with limited knowledge about you, someone might know a bit about your relationships, priorities, and value system. If the aspect is harmonious (sextile, trine), it contributes positively to your image and personality. If the aspect is disharmonious (square, quincunx), it may hinder your selfexpression, making you appear lazy, for instance (the shadow side of Venus). In the case of conjunction, you embody the energy of that planet to some extent, while in the case of opposition, your selfexpression, relationships, and what you value in life are on opposite poles. This requires finding harmony between them.

WHAT YOU SEE OR PROJECT

DESCENDENT

DSC

Descendant is a point in the horoscope that lies opposite the Ascendant, forming the Ascendant-Descendant axis. This axis is crucial because the Ascendant represents your Personality and the impression you create, while the Descendant signifies the type of people you will attract for your own good. Each person develops a personality (Ascendant) that requires the harmonisation of certain aspects through the Descendant. Just as Yin needs Yang, you need your Descendant. It is the energy that complements your shortcomings, tones down your disharmonies, and brings greater balance into your life. The Descendant is often associated with who you should be with, as opposed to who you want to be with. This is a significant distinction. The individuals you attract into your life are always perfectly matched to you. It is essential to analyse the Descendant in correlation with the Ascendant. Note that the planets forming an aspect to the Ascendant also form it to the Descendant (not necessarily in the same way!). The Descendant reveals qualities you need to harmonise your Ascendant with. This is why opposites attract! The Ascendant attracts the Descendant. Subconsciously, you need these qualities, so you are drawn to partners who possess them. These traits are attractive to you. You need to integrate the qualities of the sign on the Descendant, and interpersonal relationships will help you with that. In them, you will see the mirror effect reflecting your personality. You project Descendant traits onto partners. You need to recognise and harmonise them within yourself!

SIGN AND THE RULER

The zodiac sign in which the Descendant falls shows you a set of traits that seem attractive to you, and you subconsciously seek them in relationships, especially in partnerships or business relationships. This sign describes your marriage and interactions with other people. You project the mentioned traits onto a partner, and they help you balance yourself.

The ruler of the Descendant is the planet that indicates the qualities you do not want to recognise within yourself or do not see. Life will encourage you to develop these traits through interpersonal relationships, which serve as an alchemical laboratory for this process. In these relationships, you will experience these traits in your partner, name them, and gain the necessary inspiration to find them within yourself. The Descendant ruler shows the type of projection you have on others. This planet supports and tests you. Sometimes it appears as a friend, sometimes as an enemy. You have a dualistic relationship with it. You feel that its challenges are endless, causing dissonance and are strongly rooted in a dualistic form. The house occupied by the Descendant ruler indicates the area of life to which you grant access to other people. They may abuse the resources of this house or make you feel depleted by them in this area! Pay close attention to this and consciously choose people you allow into this space (this astrological house). If the planet is in conjunction with the Descendant, it is active in relationships and needs other people to fulfil its agendas. It requires cooperation.

YOUR PUBLIC ACTIVITY

MEDIUM COELI

MIDHAVEN

Medium Coeli (MC, Midheaven) is the point that indicates who you want to become in the external world. This part of the horoscope determines the role you wish to play in the physical reality and outlines your highest aspirations (the peaks you aim to reach). It represents your career, life path, ambitions, and also your relationships with authority figures. Midheaven points to character traits for which you want to be recognized in the broader world. It is where you build your public image, create your presence on social media, and despite being visible publicly, during direct contact, people see your Ascendant. MC also relates to your image of the mother, your relationship with her. You need to find these traits within yourself, and they are described by the planet ruling MC and the Zodiac sign associated with it. It is these traits that you want the world to recognize you for, and it is through the lens of this sign that you want the world to see you. Your social media and public image strive to be imbued with these characteristics. The ruler of the MC indicates the qualities you expect from authority figures and your mother. Until you work through these qualities, you may hold grievances against your mother. For example, you might resent low self-esteem (Venus) or a lack of responsibility (Saturn). You need to integrate the qualities of the Ruler within yourself. Success is closely tied to how well you work through the energy of that planet. If it is, for example, the Sun, you must learn to love yourself, be fully authentic, and express your true identity. The Ruler of the MC also represents your reputation and the public opinion about you.

ASPECTS WITH MC

Planets in conjunction with the MC are publicly visible. They are apparent in your career and whenever someone looks at you from the outside. These planets don't necessarily have to be the strongest in the horoscope, but they have a significant impact on your image. Such planets also influence your path to success and the source of your popularity. These planets leverage your reputation and social position (after all, they occupy this house!). The traits of these planets are publicly associated with your persona - your public image.

Whenever a planet forms an aspect with your MC, it immediately influences your career, relationship with your mother, interactions with authority figures, as well as promotions and achievements. For example, a square with Saturn may indicate difficulties in this area, limitations, frustrating situations, or judgment from your mother or boss. It's not a favourable aspect and can affect your reputation. It's worth mentioning that a planet forming an aspect (other than a conjunction) may not be visible to everyone, but its influence is. It has an impact on your career, rather than you personally (it is not Asc!).

YOUR PRIVATE ACTIVITY

IMUM COELI

IMUM COELI

Imum Coeli (IC) is the opposite point to the MC. It represents your past, privacy, family, home, roots, and everything that is not public. While the MC looks to the future to achieve success, the IC looks back into the past to sort out private matters. It represents the part of your personality that you don't show quickly to everyone; you even partially hide it from yourself. It symbolizes your privacy and the most hidden personal matters. It is also the foundation for your personality, and issues in this area can shake you to the core.

The zodiac sign in which the IC is located describes your relationship with your father and your behaviour within your close circle of people. It's crucial to analyse the IC in the context of the MC; they represent two polarities. From the IC (the past), you try to break free by building your life toward the MC (success in the future). The IC provides you with privacy, while the MC exposes you to the public. The zodiac sign in which the IC is located indicates how your history, past, and relationship with your father appear. These elements describe your family home, and the sign shows what you consider as "family norms." The ruler of the IC governs your home, privacy, and intimacy. It is an extremely personal planet that you prefer to keep to yourself (or share with people you truly trust!). Issues with this planet are also visible in your relationship with your father. You need to let go of expectations that it will represent the higher qualities of this planet. It's you who needs to build your own family foundation based on these qualities and taking care of it.

ASPECTS WITH IC

Planets in conjunction with the IC are visible only to those closest to you. You don't openly show them. They influence the foundations of your personality, but they are not as straightforward for others to see and understand. Sometimes, others might judge your MC through the lens of the foundations of your IC. After all, they don't know what made you who you are now. Planets in conjunction with the IC influence your childhood, family home, past, and roots. Other aspects don't have as much significance in the case of the IC.

WHAT ARE ASTRO HOUSES?

Astrological Houses are the "stage" - areas of life where specific transits take place. They represent distinct zones of various experiences through which planets travel. When a planet is in a house related to health, its influence is expressed in themes related to health. Similarly, when it is in a house associated with ambitions, the life story focuses on ambitions. Planets express their characteristics in the area designated by the house. Another way to view houses is that they represent internal qualities responsible for specific life issues. These qualities are activated as a result of planetary movement. Each Astrological House represents a different area of life, encompassing multiple threads and themes. One might say that each house has various, yet interconnected "rooms." Symbolically, the significance of Astrological Houses is analogous to the sequence of Zodiac Signs, with some differences. However, it is crucial to remember that the function of houses is entirely different from that of signs. Therefore, we cannot interpret several planets in the Seventh House, for instance, as "This person has many Libra traits." This is incorrect! Such an individual is focused on the realm of Libra in their life, but they do not necessarily possess the characteristics of that sign. Astrological Houses are like prepositions, whereas Planets are subjects, and Aspects are predicates. Planets state "what," Aspects describe "what happens," and Houses specify "where and with what it is related." Together, they form an event.

PLACIDIUS SYSTEM

Determining the Houses in a particular horoscope can be done in various ways. Among them are the whole sign system (Vedic), equal houses, topocentric, Koch, Placidius, and many others. Most Western astrologers use the Placidius system. It involves dividing the sky in a way that takes into account the differences in receiving cosmic energy from planets depending on the angles they form. These angles result from the planet's position (latitude and longitude). This makes more sense, especially if we assume that it is the electromagnetic radiation coming from distant stars, modulated by our Solar System, and then reaching Earth, that influences our genes, behaviours, and expression (it is the cause of astrological influences). If this is the case, the angles at which this radiation arrives vary depending on the geographical latitude. The Placidius system takes this into account.

While the Western astrologers' treatment of Zodiac Signs as a division of the ecliptic did not appeal to me, and in my opinion, it is further from the truth known to the ancients, the invention of the Placidius System is, in my view, an important breakthrough in Modern Astrology. In my approach, I combine Spirituality and Science, building a bridge between them. I present you with Universal Astrology, which combines Vedic perspectives with scientific observations. It shows that Spirituality and Science are not opposites but two different paths of knowledge. Universal Astrology recognises the Placidius house system and the approach to the Stars as the Center of Spiritual Consciousness. It is in line with astronomy and the philosophy of hermeticism, describing the structure of the Universe and the Logos. More on this in another topic.

HOUSE CUSP, RULER AND THE ALMUTEN

In Universal Astrology, we acknowledge that the primary ruler of a house is the Zodiac Sign in which that house begins. The house may also have a co-ruler (almuten) if the dignities indicate such. Lastly, a house may have a secondary ruler (less important than the main ruler and almuten). This occurs when the house begins, for example, in Zodiac Sign #1, encompasses the entire Zodiac Sign #2, and ends at the beginning of Zodiac Sign #3. In such a case, the secondary ruler is Zodiac Sign #2, which covers the majority of that area (despite its percentage, it is less important than primary ruler!). It's important to note that determining the ruler itself is not of great significance — it is mainly done to know which planet rules that house. If the Astrological House begins in Aries, which planet rules that house? It is ruled by Mars, and this is significant because planets express themselves through us on Earth. They are a part of us, so Mars, ruling that house, will express itself through us in that area of life. Additionally, it is important to check where that planet is located, as it will also be a part of its expression. Let's summarize this with an example of the Sixth House starting in Gemini. The fact that this house starts in Gemini is not of major importance, but the fact that it is ruled by Mercury provides valuable information about someone's communication, perception, and everything related to that planet.

It is now important to mention a crucial rule related to the rulership of a planet over a specific house. This rule states that "Every planet that rules a particular house becomes that house, and that house becomes that planet." Planets are conscious entities whose energy is expressed through living beings on a given planet. From one perspective, they are our Gods; from another, they are Higher Logos, and from one more, they are electromagnetic modulators of our behaviours and energy flow. One thing is certain — their power is potent and has an impact on us! Returning to the topic of houses, a Planet takes care of the House(s) it rules, utilising the resources and energy of the house it occupies. It has its own goals, strategies, and motivations depending on its character. For example, Mars seeks motivation, conflict, and fulfills its desires, while the Moon needs security, intimacy, and psychological comfort. Each planet speaks a different language and touches different elements present in human life. These elements are present because there are planets in our Solar System with such characters. Let's repeat — a Planet is a subject, its Transits are the predicate, the Zodiac Sign in which it is located describes its traits and serves as an adjective, and the Houses are the area where all of this happens, the content of the situation. Planets ruling a specific house embody its characteristics and react when something happens in that house. Planets occupying a particular house express its energy as tenants but do not rule that area. In this situation, they use the resources of that house but do not embody it and do not govern that area. An interesting situation arises when a planet is both the ruler and occupant of a house. In such a scenario, the planet works cohesively with that house.

ASTROLOGICAL HOUSES

SPHERES OF HUMAN EXPERIENCE

L E V E L O N E

FIRST ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

IDENTITY

"I AM. I EXPRESS."

YOUR PERSONALITY (IMPRESSION)

"TIME TO EXPRESS YOURSELF"

The First House defines the relationship with yourself. It reflects our superficial personality, how we build our image, and our attitude toward the world. This house also indicates our interests, hobbies, and level of vitality. It enriches our self-esteem and describes our individual identity. It represent your expectations of the world and what other people project on your auric field, which is only their projection.

First Sphere of Life

The pinnacle of this house is known as the Ascendant. It defines how others perceive you -what impression you make based on your external expression (behaviour and physical appearance). It is through the filter of this house that you present yourself to the world. It is the mask you instinctively and intuitively put on. It is your external aura and the first impression you make on other people. It is your cover and filter through which you experience life in this dimension. This world requires you to express your Ascendant (and its ruler) in the highest vibration possible. The world wants You to be the Ascendant, but this doesn't necessarily mean that this is who you really are (your Sun). The Ascendant is the attire, style, posture, aura. Properly satisfying the planet that rules the Ascendant (the socalled ruler of the chart) makes it easier for us to feel fulfilled and enjoy happiness in our lives.

Ruler of the 1st House

The planet that rules the Zodiac sign in which this Astrological House begins is called the Ruler of the Horoscope. It has a significant impact on achieving life happiness and fulfillment. It determines what brings you happiness and motivates your life. It is also responsible for what governs your health and vitality. It defines your appearance and unique personality. If there are issues in the First House, solutions should be sought in the aspects created by the ruler of this house. Other people can feel the aura of the planet that rules this house emanating from you. This planet demands the most attention to resolve issues associated with it, and you may feel like everyone sees the problems you have with this planet. The ruler indicates the motivations behind your interests. You engage in them to experience the energy of this planet. The house occupied by the ruler is the area where you seek happiness and fulfillment, vitality, and health. It's where you express yourself.

Planets in the 1st House

The planet that occupies the First House becomes highly absorbed in itself, taking everything personally and absorbing personality and identity. This planet wants to be independent, and it is based on this planet that you build your image. It is through its influence that you build a relationship with yourself and your interests. The planet occupying this house also uses your health and body to achieve its goals. It doesn't take into account other planets and their needs. It is particularly visible in closer relationships with other people. It is personal, individual, and independent. While the Ruler of the First House shows the path to happiness and fulfilment, this planet utilises your happiness and fulfilment. In this way, it influences your health, interests, and overall sense of life happiness. This planet is recognized by those close to you.

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Let's assume Saturn rules the First House. In this case...

Saturnian qualities become visible elements of your personality. Your image takes on the aura of this planet - you give the impression of a mature, experienced sage who can critically assess their surroundings. People sense your coldness and the need for justice. If they are not responsible in their own lives, they may avoid you, fearing criticism from your side. The more problems with responsibility you have in your own life, the more you may feel that everyone sees and knows about it. Pretending to be responsible won't go unnoticed and may be met with criticism. On the other hand, you can approach your image very responsibly, and with age, you will discover its significant importance. You diligently develop your interests and shape your character through diligence, commitment, and hard work. These Saturnian traits allow you to build your identity and move closer to fulfillment and life happiness. To maintain a good image, you must be characterized by specificity, stability, and discipline. People expect wisdom beyond your years from you. They expect you to have answers to their questions and to guide them with your wisdom. If you lack responsibility, people won't take you seriously. Whether you like it or not, people may get the impression that an aura of criticism and judgment emanates from you. Some people may project their own irresponsibility onto you because the Ascendant is a mirror on which others project issues related to the ruling planet.

Your presence makes people remember their responsibility for their lives, and not everyone may like that. That's the aura you have. Instead of taking responsibility for their feeling of being judged, consider how you express your judgments. If you are not responsible, people stop considering you an authority. You feel fulfilled and happy when you responsibly, persistently, and industriously approach your interests and life motivations. Your diligence and respect are written on your face. To experience the fullness of happiness and fulfillment in this incarnation, you need to set boundaries, become an authority, and be responsible in how you lead your life. You need to tame karmic difficulties and gain immense life wisdom (this often happens with age). It's possible that you engage in your hobbies because you want them to contribute to building structures in society or improving the world. On an unconscious level, you may pretend to be a more responsible person than you are, but that's because you already have enough judgments on this matter. You can be critical of the area that Saturn occupies in your horoscope. Saturn also represents how you set boundaries. Other people see whether you can do it, and if not, they automatically take advantage of it. Saturn in the First House requires interpersonal boundaries. Other people perceive this quality of yours on a subconscious level and will react accordingly to your actual ability to set boundaries. Accept the necessity of setting boundaries and do it, being responsible for yourself. Instead of criticizing yourself, take responsibility for the areas that Saturn rules. Set boundaries in those areas, even with yourself (if they are related to habits). Work on those areas, and you will start to give off the impression of a Saturn in high vibration. It's also important to pay attention to any aspects that Saturn forms. It affects your presence, image, and the aura you project around you. That's how it is with the planet that rules the First House!

SECOND ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

VALUES

"I VALUE, I HAVE,"

VALUE SYSTEM (& POSSESIONS)

"TIME TO SET PRIORITIES"

The Second House defines your relationship with money, possessions, and movable property. It shows your values, stemming from what is important to you. This house represents your opinions, personal resources, and attachment to material things. It also reflects your approach to earning money and your regular income. Moreover, the Second House also relates to your skills and talents. Ultimately, you cultivate in yourself what you value and consider worthwhile.

Second Sphere of Life

This house focuses your attention on building a value system. What is valuable to you? What skills are you honing because they are your priority? What talents do you possess (your intrinsic value may be associated with them)? What is most important to you? Money is a symbol that assigns value to various material objects and services. How do you approach them? What brings you income? Under what circumstances do you earn? What kind of clothing are you seeking? What items do you want to surround yourself with? What kind of food? What mental resources do you possess (opinions, knowledge, values, skills)? Note that this house focuses on resources at various levels, so it may also signify your natural talents that help you achieve greater prosperity. This house requires setting priorities that align with your value system, leading to increased abundance.

Ruler of the 2nd House

It is responsible for your earnings, finances, and opinions. It governs your talents and skills, showing what motivates you to earn money and acquire resources. It supports the development of your talents and the enhancement of specific skills. This planet reacts to any issues related to opinions, values, abilities, and everything you possess. It comes into play when there are problems in these areas. When you have financial problems, you are actually dealing with issues related to the planet ruling this house. When you engage in matters related to your talent, skills, and the ability to earn, you activate and work through the energy of the Ruler of this House. Working on the Ruler of the Second House opens you up to abundance. The house that this planet occupies indicates where you regularly earn money. By using the resources of the occupied area, you express your opinions and acquire more talents and skills.

Planets in the 2nd House

This planet utilizes the resources provided by this House. It is the one that spends your money, utilizes the material, talents, and skills you have acquired. This planet expresses opinions and leverages your value system. Interestingly, the planet or planets in this house can help you generate greater resources but are more focused on spending than generating. They aim to acquire a certain value that will enrich you internally. They want to increase your capital by investing in their own goals. The planet occupying this House uses your talents and skills to achieve its own objectives. It draws from this house to form its own opinions and shape its value.

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Suppose Mars rules this house. In that case...

Mars represents identity, motivations, desire, action, anger, confidence, aspirations, and the right to individualism. You express your opinions boldly and in a fiery manner. You do it somewhat impulsively and can thereby provoke conflicts with others. You form your opinions based on your identity, individuality, and your own determination of what is important and what is not. You lack caution in this area but have a lot of directness. Your own subjective opinions are expressed vocally. Sometimes, you perceive them too universally and forget that it's just your perspective. You can be imposing and controlling in those moments. Your opinions result from successive personal life experiences, emerging from overcoming your own weaknesses and engaging in internal and external battles. The Second House represents your talents, and Mars represents vitality and action. This indicates that you like to actively utilize your talents. You are entrepreneurial and enjoy using your skills and talents in a way that presents challenges and opportunities for acquisition. You don't want others to advise or control you on this path. You want to decide, choose, and forge your path to abundance on your own. In your life, you feel like you're fighting for a better financial future. On one hand, it requires courage and enthusiasm, and on the other, endurance and a high level of vitality. What supports your finances is following your passions and what fills you with Martian fuel. Routines or places that dictate what you should do are not suitable for you! They will lower your...

ability to earn money. Courage is the main element that can bring you prosperity. Your skills are linked to your identity— it is your identity that can attract more money into your life. Since Mars also represents anger, the path to abundance is a struggle for a position that you must defend. On this path, you need to demonstrate masculine, active energy. Waiting will get you nowhere. You need the Second House to understand yourself and your identity better. When it comes to your budget, you plan it based on your desires and goals. Initially, these may be ego-driven desires, but with increasing awareness, they will become Soul-driven desires. You approach material matters in a fiery way. Mars requires control, independence, self-sufficiency, and motivation. You have to work for abundance through a proactive approach, following what inspires and motivates you. You need to achieve, acquire, and raise the bar. You need to toughen your body and spirit and become stronger. Mars makes your sense of masculine energy grow with the ability to earn money and openly express your opinions and talents. Your talent is your passion, and your passion is your talent (House is the Planet). Mars makes you need to boldly express your skills. This will ensure your prosperity. However, be careful not to make your opinions too domineering or imposing. Life teaches you about money through your relationship with passions and courage. You desire money, and that desire propels you forward. Life teaches you control over money, and if you try to control others' resources instead of your own, you will encounter conflicts. Be prepared for situations that will require courage and expressing your identity in an unbridled manner. The sign and house that the ruler of the Second House occupies, along with aspects to other planets, bring many significant details helping to develop an understanding of this subject.

THIRD ASTROLOGICAL SYSTEM

DAILY LIFE

"I WRITE, I SPEAK,"

Third Sphere of Life

The Third House represents everything that is familiar, obvious, and routine. This house determines your relationship with your surroundings and the people you encounter in it. These include neighbors, friends, siblings, cousins, and others present in your environment. It is your comfort zone, the relationship with your surroundings, and the routine patterns of daily life. This house is associated with how you communicate with your environment. It is connected to writing, speaking, and conversing. It also reflects the attitude you have towards people and the neighborhood that forms the backdrop of your daily life. Accidents can also happen in this house! The Third House, as the House related to the Surroundings, is associated with exploring it and how you approach exploring your place of residence. It also tells the story of how you build relationships with your siblings.

YOUR DAILY LIFE (& COMFORT ZONE)

"TIME TO EXPLORE WHAT IS NEARBY"

The Third House defines your relationship with the environment, siblings, neighbours, passersby, and casual friends. It is your familiar surroundings, the comfort zone, and close vicinity. This is where you create routines and habits. It is where you communicate with others and build basic connections. Here, you feel subjective security and establish relationships with cousins. This House also governs early education, short trips, accidents, foreign languages, writing, and gossip.

Ruler of the 3rd House

The planet that rules this house, in some sense, is close and familiar to you. It shows the basic approach and what guides you in your habits and daily routines. This planet operates habitually through this house, in an automated way. You don't give it enough conscious attention because you feel that you know it well. You sense that you don't have to make an effort to understand its energy—it's present in your environment and surroundings. It reacts to any disruptions in the area of your daily life, habits, routines, customs, relationships with siblings, neighbors, friends, etc. When problems arise in these areas, it's worth looking at this planet and working on it and its aspects. Remember that the comfort zone should be expanded from time to time by implementing new habits (especially when the old ones no longer serve their purpose). The house occupied by the Ruler of this House indicates where you most resist in habits and routines. It is in this house that you find the center of communication, knowledge, and where you like to talk about this area of life.

Planets in the 3rd House

A planets like this primarily rely on what is tried and habitual. It rarely opens up to something new or different. It develops its own methods and uses them in a stable manner. Such a planet or planets may need to learn greater flexibility and occasionally open up to change and expanded expression. The planet occupying this House utilizes its resources. It takes advantage of your habits, relationships, and communication. It makes use of short trips and your immediate environment. This planet tends to be closed off to new experiences, preferring well-trodden paths and familiar patterns. It tries to express itself through habits and everything familiar to you. It lacks innovation and a willingness to experiment, preferring superficial connections and building on what is already known. It enjoys social contacts.

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Imagine that Venus rules this house. In that case...

Venus represents preferences, priorities, values, relationships, relaxation, and the right to pleasure. Venus, as the ruler of the Third House, shows that stepping out of the comfort zone can be comfortable as long as it aligns with your values. Engaging in relationships and experiencing sensory pleasure are part of your daily life. Your relationships tend to fall into routine and automatism, and sometimes, this requires reassessment. Relationships will benefit from proper communication and the right level of conversation. Your routine actions are related to what is truly important to you. You build habits that help you get closer to what you consider valuable. Your relationships with others are rather predictable, and you like to do familiar things in them. You also enjoy habitually ordering the same food, doing the same things, or listening to the same music. Relationships become predictable. Your friends know your priorities because you communicate them clearly. Your approach to pleasure is routine—you can do the same activities, and they always bring you joy. Your preferences and taste are linked to everyday life—perhaps you prefer comfortable clothes or want to look like a person from the neighborhood. If your habits and routines are disrupted, your relationships and priorities suffer. Your value system feels disturbed, and you feel like you're losing something valuable in your life.

Your priorities, relationships, and value system are your routines. Your routines are your relationships, value system, and priorities. You expect life and people to live by their priorities because it is familiar and obvious to you. Your everyday life primarily serves to build relationships, take care of what is most important, and indulge in sensory pleasure. Routines help you harmonize relationships, stabilize your value system, and build a stable environment that promotes your preferences. When your routines, habits, or relationships with the environment are disrupted, your self-esteem may decrease. When your relationships with siblings or the environment are disharmonious, it affects your self-esteem. You then feel worse about yourself. Changing habits requires you to reevaluate your value system and priorities to see if they are in harmony. If you adopt habits that go against them, your self-esteem suffers. The sign and house that Venus occupies, along with the aspects it makes, provide more details about this area.

FOURTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

FOUNDATION

"I CREATE MY FOUNDATIONS"

YOUR PRIVACY (FOUNDATION)

"TIME TO GET ROOTS"

The Fourth House defines your relationship with your father, male authorities, family, ancestors, and real estate. It is your domestic environment, a sense of privacy, and the past. This house builds your foundations, but along with them, generational traumas may be ingrained. It is a sanctuary that influences your self-esteem. The Fourth House also describes the homeland, cultural traditions, and how the end of your life may look. Additionally, it may be associated with gardening.

Fourth Sphere of Life

The Fourth Astrological House represents roots —a foundation that stabilises your life. This area pertains to the family home, ancestors, family, and its traditions. It is the sphere that describes our private life because not everyone shares their family or domestic matters with everyone. The Fourth House signifies a physical foundation in the form of a home and a metaphorical foundation as a place where we feel comfortable, regenerate, and regain strength. It is a house where we find a sense of belonging and sanctuary. It is a temple of peace and integration between public or professional life. Additionally, this house refers to your past (generational traumas and patterns passed down through generations). Interestingly, it also alludes to the future—your old age. It also encompasses your attitude towards heritage, family, and relationships with parents, homeland, and grandparents.

Ruler of the 4th House

The planet that rules this House is your Foundation. It enables the creation of both a physical and emotional home. It helps expand your individual world and stabilizes your life. The less you have integrated the lessons of the ruler of this house, the more stability issues you may encounter. The ruler of this House shows you the primary motivation in your relationship with your father. This planet is the realm of privacy—it is personal and somewhat hidden. It also describes your home, your past, and your relationship with family. The ruler of the Fourth House supports you in finding your sanctuary and understanding and fulfilling your domestic needs. The house that this ruler occupies indicates where you rely the most on your foundations and family. The resources of this house are your priority and will help you create a stable ground. The areas of life associated with the place occupied by the ruler are strongly influenced by your upbringing programs.

Planets in the 4th House

The planet or planets occupying the Fourth Astrological House hide somewhat from the world and build an aura of privacy. They seek a sense of belonging and exploit the relationship with the family. They may utilize your home, residence, and properties to fulfil their needs. They prefer not to be visible and value stable foundations. At the same time, they benefit from their roots, ancestors, and the foundations they have. The planet occupying this house wants to fulfil itself by delving into the past, exploiting its origins, and connecting with the land (e.g., gardening).

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Let's assume Jupiter rules this house, and therefore, it falls in the sign of Pisces. In that case...

Jupiter represents expansion, growth, abundance, faith, beliefs, and dreams. It also signifies the need for acquiring knowledge and broadening horizons. If Jupiter rules your Fourth House, everything this planet represents becomes your true life foundation. The better your relationship with this planet, the more efficiently you function, and the more stably you build your life. The house is a place that teaches you a lot and expands your perspective. Here, you exercise your faith and discover your beliefs, especially regarding parents, for example. Your views, beliefs, and convictions are private matters—you don't openly share them like some people. Not everyone needs to know everything about your development and how you broaden your life perspectives. Spiritual development is a private matter for you. Building your abundance may be supported by your family. Your abundance stems from your roots. Some beliefs and views may be inherited from the family. Part of your life's meaning may be linked to building a home, creating your own private space. Development and travels will help you find the right place to root yourself anew. Manifesting using the law of attraction is key to realising the vision of a lasting foundation. Your knowledge is your foundation. Your knowledge allows you to root yourself more in life. Expanding knowledge will lead to greater abundance in life. This is the Path to Abundance.

There may also be a tendency to exaggerate family matters or build various beliefs in this area. Some of them may be illusory or have a fantasy background. Since the Fourth House is in Pisces, the theme of unconsciousness, addictions, secrets, sabotage, and a sense of isolation may arise in the House and Family area. Through such domestic experiences, you now primarily trust people who are more grounded and have better family relationships. You believe that new roots should be built with faith. Life contrary to your beliefs and convictions destroys your foundation, making you feel like you lack a sense of Home. Belonging arises when you start building a foundation using abundance and faith. This attracts greater stability into your life. You want to believe in your family and loved ones. You want your family or country of origin to thrive. You approach your place of origin with enthusiasm. If difficult things happen in the Fourth House, you lose faith and begin to form beliefs about it. This House must operate in accordance with your beliefs and views for you to feel that you belong to it. You believe in a specific type of family closeness, and if you don't see it in reality, you lose hope. Jupiter in the Fourth House may also indicate that you want to believe in your Father and want him to believe in you. You want him to respect your beliefs and views. You want your dad to grow and desire him to support your development. Your dream is to have a harmonious relationship with your Father, but you will achieve this only when you start believing in your own father. You have to take that step yourself.

FIFTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

CREATIVITY

"I LIVE CREATIVELY".

REATIVE EXPRESSION
(AND NEED FOR FUN)

"I ALLOW MYSELF FOR PLEASURE"

The Fifth House defines relationships with entertainment, fun, risk, fleeting romances, love adventures, lovers, and children. In this area of life, you express your approach to entertainment, pleasure, and creativity. The Fifth House is associated with a desire to experience life to the fullest, openness to experimenting with love, as well as with expression, investments, gambling, risk, sports, games, and the relationship with children.

Fifth Sphere of Life

In this House, you discover your creativity and ways of expressing it. It is where you want to life the fullest live to through entertainment, and pleasure. indicates your tendencies towards risk-taking, your approach to games, and the desire to party. Fun and pleasure also intersect here in the form of romance and sexual encounters. In this House, one can lose control due to excessive risk-taking and a hunger for experiences. Additionally, this House symbolizes your approach to your creativity and how you express it. This creativity also extends to the biological dimension (procreation). This House represents the approach to fun and romances. The Seventh House deals with long-term relationships, while the Fifth sees romance as a form of play and enjoying life. Love doesn't always have to be taken seriously; it can be carefree. Marriage and sex are separate realms in the light of astrology.

Ruler of the 5th House

The planet ruling the Fifth House is used creatively or for fun. You don't take it too seriously and allow yourself to embrace it more when opening up to the entertaining part of yourself. You engage with it during vacations, when taking risks, or starting a romance. You play with various ways to express it, and it determines what attracts you in games and what you seek in pleasures. It motivates your individual creativity and reveals your attitude towards children and reproduction (the Zodiac Sign in which the House is located also provides indications). You work with the ruler of this House when engaging in romances, sex, risk-taking, and dealing with children. If you struggle with the ruler of this House, you may lack moderation in pleasures, or on the contrary, there might be too little of it in your life. The house occupied by the Ruler of the Fifth House indicates where you seek pleasure, entertainment, expression. You utilize the resources of this House to express yourself, and in this area, you are inclined towards risk and speculation. You seek romances, sex, and inspiration there. It is in the circumstances described by the House in which the Ruler is located that you find romantic adventures.

Planets in the 5th House

This planet (or planets) utilizes your creativity, pleasures, play, and takes risks to achieve its goals. It is oriented towards fun, games, or relationships with children. It sometimes operates in a dramatic manner, but this mainly happens when something interferes with its play, creative self-expression, or pleasure. It ceases to function properly when there is a lack of fun, pleasure, or creativity. This planet sometimes takes risks but rarely considers the consequences. Regardless of whether the situation becomes tense or problematic, it will seek a way to turn it into play. This could involve humor, manipulation, hedonism, or escapism—all depending on the level of awareness. This planet wants to have fun and "enjoy life to the fullest."

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Assuming that Mercury rules this house...

Mercury represents perception, communication, connectivity, understanding. Mercury is the Right to Your Own Truth. When you engage in the creative process of the fifth house, your mind comes into play. Your creativity is linked to your thinking or communication. Perhaps you communicate in a creative way. Maybe your thoughts are trying to create something new. Your creativity is expressed mentally. It may manifest in the form of jokes or wordplay. It can be useful for writing books or poems. When you open yourself to risk and new things, your mind speeds up, and then you feel mental stimulation. You start talking about what excites you out loud! To create, you like to first understand something logically. Your creativity is fueled by understanding. Your ideas like cause-and-effect relationships. When you go all in, you do it so that the story of your life becomes more interesting. You take risks in life to have some more interesting stories to tell others, and they also become a source of fun. Risk and fun can inspire or mix up your mind. Curiosity and rationality are sufficient motivations for you to take risks and explore something new. You enjoy exploring new possibilities as long as you gain more information for yourself in the process. If you take risks from a place devoid of logic or rationality, you may lose out! A better option is to think everything through before diving in. A thorough analysis and determining the next steps can be helpful here.

When it comes to fun, you seek interesting stories, opportunities for conversation, stimulation, and acquiring new information. Fun should stimulate your mind to give you joy. Romances should be interesting chapters in the story of your life. They should be an inspiration for writing or an opportunity for late-night conversations. You approach them sometimes too rationally, overly analyzing potential situations. Your creativity is your mind. Your mind is your creativity. You have an incredibly creative mind! It receives many interesting ideas. When you daydream, you find a wealth of fascinating information in your thoughts. Where do they all come from? The creative force of this house provides them to you. Lack of moderation in the area of fun and romance confuses your mind and brings unfavorable thoughts. Good fun for you is related to following what is interesting and catches your attention. Reading books, exploring topics, conversations, sharing different points of view, and exploring perception and its possibilities can be enjoyable for you. When you have fun to the fullest, your curiosity determines the directions. Your mind is entertainment for you. You enjoy surrounding yourself with information, writing, speaking, communicating, and opening up to relationships where you will discover even more perspectives. Finally, it's worth noting that you get along well with younger individuals (including children).

SIXT ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

HEALTH

"I TAKE CARE."

YOUR DUTIES (& HEALTH)

"TIME TO TAKE CARE OF BODY&MIND"

The Sixth House defines the relationship with employees, health, service, and pets. It is the area of life associated with work, colleagues, and the relationships we have with them. It is a place of employment and the necessity of service, which is a karmic consequence. In this House, we learn about the coherence of body and mind and attain health or face illnesses. This is where we experiment with diets and learn discipline. Here, we may feel in servitude or obligated.

Sixth Sphere of Life

The Sixth House is the house of atonement, expressed as the necessity of service. Here, we work off certain karmic debts, and as a result, we must perform specific tasks for others. There won't be praise or recognition for it. It's an energetic debt that we must repay. This is the house of duties and hard work. Discipline and health aid in this process. How can we achieve health? This House shows us useful routines and teaches us a certain level of rigor. We must approach life in a stable and conscientious manner. We must work, and this House reveals our approach to work and the people we encounter there. This House compels us to maintain unpleasant routines to find the value in working for others and abandon expectations. It's not a comfortable House; rather, involves effort, crises, overcoming them through learning harmony between the mind and body. Finding balance in life and work.

Ruler of the 6th House

The planet ruling this House reveals your primary motivation behind the need for service. It indicates a deeper sense of your work and what you want to contribute to people. What is the essence of your work? This planet demands rigor, discipline, and a hardworking, conscientious approach from you. The necessity of working on this planet is deeply embedded in your life, and you may feel it has karmic ties. The more you ignore this planet, the more physical and psychological symptoms may manifest, serving as reminders. This may result in an obsession with striving for perfect mastery of it. It also distances you from the center point, which defines health. The ruler of this house requires balance—discipline without compulsion obsession. Working on this planet also means you don't receive much in return, but problems may arise if you neglect it. Accept the fact that others may not applaud you for it. Disease arises when you reach the polarities of this planet—either ignoring it or excessively working on it.

The ruler of the Sixth House also indicates the nature of your work and what you want to contribute to others. Through this planet, you engage in service, undergoing valuable lessons through this service. If you are not satisfied with your work environment, for example, if you dislike the way work is conducted or have difficult, conflict-ridden relationships with others, it's worthwhile to pay conscious attention to the planet ruling this house! It responds to any problems and difficulties related to the work environment or neglecting your health (e.g., through improper diet), lack of discipline, or responsibility for your duties. The ruler of this House determines illness and health, assessing your level of finding the center in your efforts—not too little work, not too much. The house occupied by this ruler indicates what contribution you want to make, where you seek work, and what resources you utilize while working. It may show the workplace or places to avoid. This House also indicates where illness manifests most strongly, and it will be more pronounced the more we utilize the resources of the occupied house.

Planets in the 6th House:

The planet (or planets) located in this House utilizes its resources, thus benefiting from your illness or health, work, and service. It has an incredibly strong sense of responsibility and may exaggerate the amount of work toward its goals. This planet is more noticeable in relationships with colleagues. It may feel overwhelmed and become grumpy when overworked. It tries to shift its duties and responsibilities onto others. When overworked or excessively depletes the resources of this house, it can lead to illnesses. When it's sick, it is more likely to avoid responsibilities, but this time out of obligation rather than choice. Planets in this house work hard, and work is a source of fulfilling their needs. They are open to helping others.

EXEMPLARY INTERPRETATION

Suppose the Moon rules this house. In that case...

The Moon represents closeness, attachment, the comfort zone, the need for safety, and the inner world of emotions. It reflects your instinctive reactions and subconscious patterns. If the Moon rules the Sixth House, your Comfort Zone is your Work. Your work brings you peace of mind and builds your sense of comfort. Your work requires addressing subconscious patterns and working with your inner child. Taking care of yourself is crucial in this area. It is in this sphere that you feel like a child in need of care. In this area, you also develop a parent within yourself who will take care of you. When you lack work, your sense of comfort may diminish. When work is missing, feelings of insecurity and fears may arise. In this area of life, you receive specific lessons about taking responsibility for yourself and your work. In the work area, you experience various emotions (depending on the zodiac sign where the Moon is located). For example, if it's in Sagittarius, you may experience enthusiasm, anger, excitement, and joy. When faced with a long list of duties, you might feel tied to them, restricted, and overwhelmed. Concerns about whether you can handle these issues may arise. Life requires you to work on your Moon. It's your karmic duty (Sixth House). You need to release subconscious programs, work on your Inner Child, and manage emotions.

At work, you may encounter many situations that require stepping out of your comfort zone. It's possible that it will require learning to control your emotions or overcoming your fears. Work tests your comfort zone and reactivity. These situations are opportunities to reflect in the Mirror of the Subconscious and its programs. In professional matters, you might be holding onto your comfort zone, fear, and what is close and familiar to you. You need to overcome your fears in this area. The more subconscious fears you have, the more your health will suffer. The more you fear health-related issues, the easier it is to attract diseases and injuries. In the health area, you may have some subconscious patterns, perhaps inherited from home (from your mother), that need releasing. The better your relationship with your Moon, the more your health, work, and duties thrive. You become attached to your work, but fear no longer blocks you. Work then generates a lot of positive emotions and helps you create a comfort zone in professional expansion. In your work, you become nurturing and care for other people with concern. You then serve others from a place of empathy and spread a comfortable atmosphere. You show people that it's possible to work in a comfortable environment, taking care of their emotional well-being. Any issues with the Moon reflect on your mental, emotional, and physical health. It's crucial to routinely check your emotional state and consciously step out of the fear zone. Check the level of your mental comfort and unravel subconscious patterns related to work, service, and health. Service and work can be the source of your fears, and fears are the source of your illnesses.

SEVENTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

RELATIONS

"I FIND MYSELF IN OTHERS"

YOUR RELATIONSHIPS (COUPLES)

"TIME FOR LONG-TERM RELATIONSHIPS"

The Seventh House defines your 1:1 relationships with spouse, business partner, therapist, enemy etc. It is the house of long-term relationships that require confrontation and negotiation. It is about other people and the relationships you form with them, whether they be business, romantic, therapeutic, or other. It represents your expectations of the other person and what the world need You to harmonise with (polarity that will balance Your Ascendent personality).

Seventh Sphere of Life

This Life Area relates to your connection with another person. It represents the experience of the external world in which you build a relationship with someone based on a common goal, contract, or agreement. It can be a romantic relationship with another person, an arrangement between individuals, a relationship with a therapist, coach, and more. It's worth noting that from a certain perspective, marriage is a kind of contract or agreement. This House also shows how you project positive and negative aspects onto others. The accumulation of these projections manifests in your partner (spouse) and your adversaries (people who openly dislike you or whom you dislike). Since this House is opposite the First, it indicates what you can perfectly see in others but may awareness of within lack the vourself. Interpersonal relationships are mirrors in which you can see and understand yourself more. They act as mirrors for your identity.

Ruler of the 7th House

The planet ruling this House is absent in you. You mainly see it in other people, projecting both its positive and negative traits onto them. Life partners help you integrate this planet. On one hand, this planet guides you on how to take care of it when you look in the Mirror of Relationships, and on the other hand, it may also show its shadows in it. The better you handle this planet, the more support you receive in this area from your partner. The ruler of this House determines how your long-term relationships, partnerships, business contracts, and relationship confrontations (even the challenging ones) look like. When you experience difficulties in relationships or judge other people, it's worth looking at the Ruler of This House and balancing its influence. After all, you project its issues onto others! The House occupied by the Ruler indicates in which life spheres you need support or give too much power to other people. The partner may draw from the resources of this House! They may complement or utilize it. The resources of this House are crucial if you want to create harmonious relationships. You may project responsibility for this House onto your partner and blame others, but ultimately, you must address these issues.

Planets in the 7th House

The planet or planets occupying this house manifest in relationships with others, marriage, or partnerships of various kinds (including business). You might feel as if this planet is more in others than in yourself. Activating this planet requires relationships. It can happen through asking for help, projecting the problem onto someone else, or shifting responsibility to others for this planet. Planets in this house tend to give their energy to others. It can be a good thing, but it doesn't have to be. The energy of these planets mainly expresses itself in relationships, therapy, or business. These planets expect others to do for them what they should do themselves. They wait for the other side of the relationship to take care of their needs. Unfortunately, in this way, they give away their power to others! It's valuable to learn the energy of this planet more and possess it yourself. Accept responsibility for it. Let others help you with that.

Let's assume that the Sun rules this house. In that case...

The Sun represents consciousness, presence, focus, life, soul, life path, creativity, and vitality. The Sun embodies integrity, clarity, and resourcefulness. When the Sun is the ruler of the Seventh House, it means that to understand your life path, connect more with your soul, and regain vitality, you need contact with other people, communication, and their attention. Without exploring relationships with others, it might be challenging for you to understand who you are and what you want from your life. Relationships with others restore the missing pieces that you integrate within yourself. Your creativity and resourcefulness are, on the one hand, your life partners and something that supports you, but on the other hand, they can become your enemies when ideas become unpleasant or complicate your life. Your life contains a hint of dissonance and dualism. You feel that, on the one hand, it's beautiful and wonderful, and on the other hand, it sometimes presents itself as problematic. Your life revolves around interpersonal relationships (especially one-on-one). Your life can change significantly under the influence of relationships with others. Relationships can be a catalyst for your creativity, vitality, and liveliness. You tend to shift your issues with vitality, creativity, or life path onto other people, suggesting that the relationship affects these matters. In your interactions with others, you use your charisma, warmth, creativity, and vitality. Your life has a significant element of interpersonal relationships. The state of your relationships translates into the vibration of your consciousness.

The state of your relationships translates into your vitality, life-giving power, and creativity. Relationships help you achieve greater clarity in life and brightness. Each interpersonal connection builds your identity and helps you get closer to your authenticity. Every relationship teaches you something about yourself, bringing you closer and closer to being your true self. It can be said that through relationships, you discover who you really are and who you want to be. Relationships recharge your energy and add vigor to your life. Relationships require honesty from you and test your integrity. You expect your partners to enrich your life and help you live creatively. You want them to be full of vigor, vitality, and ideas. It may happen that you project your own issues with authenticity, vitality, integrity, and creativity onto others. You may judge others in these aspects, but in reality, it is a mirror of your own problems in these areas.

With the Sun ruling the Seventh House, your quest for self-discovery through relationships can lead to two extreme situations. On the one hand, you may lose yourself and become the people you surround yourself with, and on the other hand, you may become excessively frustrated that you don't fully know who you are. This can lead to conflicts with others. It is necessary to understand your own pieces and the mirrors of relationships here. Pay attention to the extent to which you give away your creativity, vitality, and life to other people. Use relationships to find yourself, with respect for yourself and your energy. The Sun ruling this house also gives you the ability to inspire others to become authentic themselves.

EIGHTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

CIRCULATION

"I SHARE WITH OTHERS."

SHARED RESOURCES (& GOODS)

"TIME TO GET SOME HELP FROM OTHERS"

The Eighth House defines your relationship with debts, obligations, others' and shared property, and communal possessions. It refers to external sources that can assist you in times of crisis. On a physical level, we turn to loans, shared resources (including taxes and obligations), and other people's money. It also encompasses insurances, inheritances, and communities. On higher levels, we delve into magic and rituals that can also offer assistance. This house represents karmic debts, hidden matters, and secrets.

Eighth Sphere of Life

This house is the house of loss, crisis, and the attempt to rebuild. It encompasses debts, credits, obligations, and taxes. These can also be karmic, emotional, or energetic debts we have towards others, the nation, the system, God, or ancestors. This house may generate income, but if so, it's at someone else's expense (someone loses, you gain). This house calls us to help each other in financially difficult situations. It can also relate to gains in the stock market. Interestingly, it may also indicate the debts and loans of a partner! Moreover, this house also signifies belonging to small communities with which you share intimate ties, issues, similar traumas, or spirituality. These can be witch Sabbats, sects, religious circles, meditation groups, men's or women's circles, ACA meetings, AA meetings, etc. These are places where emotional losses have occurred, or energy is shared.

Ruler of the 8th House

The planet ruling the Eighth House is more like someone else's property than yours. Other people have easy access to it and can draw from it. They can also nourish it (through intimacy). The ruler of this house is associated with the issue of debts, and for it to fully activate, you must first repay individual debts (material, karmic, etc.). Integrating this planet is the key to learning the circulation of finances. Note that this house teaches us that Debt is not something bad. It is a sign of support that will eventually need to be repaid. The ruler of this house also points to your fears and attitudes related to others' property. It shows support from others. The needs of the ruler of this house will only be fulfilled with the support of others. It also indicates the opinions of other people and your attitude towards them. This planet is highly dependent on others and requires learning the law of energy circulation and synergistic interaction with others. This is where you balance giving and taking. The house occupied by the ruler shows where you rely most on the help of others, take out loans, borrow, and where you feel dependent on others. In this area, you need support, and it is in these areas that you later share with others.

Planets in the 8th House

The planet or planets occupying this house utilize its resources. They use credit cards, others' finances, loans, inheritances, and investments. They also tap into the emotional resources of other people. In some sense, this planet is dependent on others, feeling powerless in certain matters. It needs support from other people. It leverages others' resources – family money, spouse's resources, or loans. This planet may belong to communities united by shared spirituality, secrets, issues, intimate relationships, or philosophy. It may be associated with ritualization. To satisfy its needs, this planet requires others' opinions, values, and resources. It is prone to taking loans or borrowing, seeking investors, and pursuing goals that require collective efforts and resources, whether material, energetic, or emotional.

Assuming that Venus rules this house...

Venus represents your values, preferences, priorities, relationships, pleasures, and relaxation. Venus also relates to your finances. It signifies gratitude, the need for validation, and a sense of self-worth. When Venus rules the Eighth House, your need for validation becomes your debt. Your debt is your need for validation. The desire to elevate your sense of worth can lead you to take on debts. You might borrow money or take loans to spend on something that will boost your self-esteem. You may also excessively spend money just to gain recognition in the eyes of others. If art and spiritual development are significant values for you (e.g., Venus in Pisces), you might borrow money to have more space for them. Venus, as the ruler of the Eighth House, indicates that being part of intimate groups or associations can help you open your heart and experience more love. Your heart opens and closes beyond your control! You thrive during shared emotional experiences that have an intimate nature. It is crucial to be cautious about whom you allow access to your heart and with whom you share your love, as others simply absorb it. At some point, you may notice a decline in your own value, signalling that you've given too much of it to others. In your life, a debt of gratitude arises. You may feel that you express too little gratitude. This changes but is beyond your reach. There may be a fear of gratitude, leading to avoiding accepting gifts from others.

It may take the form of avoiding compliments or refusing others' money or external pleasures. This happens because you associate receiving with debts and loss. You know you'll have to repay it. When someone gives you something, you feel indebted. On the other hand, when you boost someone else's self-esteem, you believe that the other party now owes you. There is a certain transactional nature in giving and taking. Expectations arise. If the other party forgets to repay, you may feel somewhat used. You might excessively see love and gratitude as a kind of transaction—an exchange of energy. However, remember that not everyone operates in this way! Another issue when Venus rules the Eighth House is that the approval and opinions of other people have a significant impact on your self-esteem. It is crucial for you that the people and environment around you share the same values as you. On the other hand, your Venus and its values are something you share with others. People have access to your values. This can support and develop them, but on the other hand, they can also influence them. When you share the same values with others, you feel better about yourself. You may go through a phase in life where you are unsure about your values—they become a debt. Discomfort arises, and self-esteem drops. To discover what is most important to you, you must first lose something valuable several times. Your love, gratitude, and values become more conscious when you lose them at least once.

NINTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

EXPANSION

"I EXPAND MY HORIZONS"

YOUR GROWTH (& EDUCATION)

"TIME TO HAVE AN OPEN MIND"

Ninth House determines your relationship with teachers, spiritual leaders, beliefs, foreigners, experts, philosophers, and the academic circle. It is the area of your expansion, development, and progress. This House rules exoticism, religion, cultural differences, and broadening horizons. It also governs the ability to ideologically influence others through writing or speech. This includes publications, advertising, propaganda, law, and spiritual paths.

Ninth Sphere of Life

The Ninth Astrological House represents unknown, distant, and foreign territories—a fertile ground expanding your perspective. This House encompasses beliefs, ideals, religion, higher education, and publishing. It indicates the expansion of perspective and then sharing it. In this House, we grow from the role of a student to that of a mentor or teacher. To open the mind and learn greater tolerance, this House requires travel, contact with foreign cultures, international experiences, encounters with spiritual teachers, gurus, and guides. The Ninth House also points to experts and individuals who safeguard universal or higher knowledge. Additionally, the Ninth House represents media, advertising, propaganda, and tools used to shape ideologies, beliefs, and convictions. Writing a book or creating a course can contribute to influencing others ideologically in this realm.

Ruler of the 9th House

The planet ruling this House is, in some sense, foreign to you; you don't understand or know its energy. As a result, it may seem risky or dangerous to you. Something within you wants to understand this planet more. To make this possible, overcome the fear of the unknown using this planet. Step out of your comfort zone, delve into unfamiliar beliefs using this planet. This planet requires faith, philosophical exploration, spirituality, listening to the opinions of leaders and experts. It demands acquiring certain knowledge and listening to authorities in specific fields. This happens because you are entering unfamiliar territory, expanding your perspective beyond the familiar. The ruler of this House needs novelty and shows how you react to it (new places, experiences). You leave the comfort zone to integrate the Ruler of the Ninth House. The ruler of this house represents your beliefs, your ideology, the purpose of your convictions, and faith. You seek experts and spiritual guides who possess the aura of this planet. You seek a deeper understanding of the meaning of this planet. The House that this planet occupies shows the area of your life where you rely most on knowledge, experts, spirituality, religion, or authorities. It's in this house that you seek greater understanding, and this area continually offers you new lessons and experiences. In this house, you manage resources well, but you should avoid becoming too self-satisfied, as it may close you off to expansion.

Planets in the 9th House

The planet or planets occupying the Ninth House need a significant amount of inspiration, new information, stepping out of the comfort zone, new ways of expressing oneself, and opening up to the unknown. The planet in this House uses philosophy, beliefs, dogmas, or higher education to achieve its goals. It utilizes the resources of this House, but at the same time, it must find new, missing information. This planet feels better when leaving the comfort zone, traveling, learning something new, and expanding the scope of its ideology, knowledge, or faith.

Suppose the Moon rules this house. In that case...

The Moon represents attachment, closeness, safety, subconsciousness, and the comfort zone. It signifies the sense of both psychic and physical security. When the Moon rules the Ninth House, a sense of attachment and rootedness may be unfamiliar to you. For a long period in your life, you might not understand why you lack a feeling of belonging. Instinctively, you may not feel like a part of the place you inhabit. To find these feelings, you need to create your comfort zone in travels and expansion. Go to distant places, listen to the voices of guides and experts, and acquire knowledge. You need to delve deeper into spiritual matters to find emotional and mental peace. Your path to comfort requires unfamiliar, new, and sometimes exotic experiences. Closeness with others may also seem alien and requires learning. You might feel that you don't yet have knowledge or insight into this area, or that it is something distant for you. This distance could be related to your relationship with your mother. It's worth examining all aspects of the Moon and analyzing the house it occupies. Your path to achieving closeness involves stepping out of your comfort zone. Paradoxically, you gain mental and physical comfort by stepping beyond your comfort zone. It's a bit like learning how to build a comfort zone through skillful approaches with others, grounding yourself in distant places, or spiritually working through your subconsciousness. Working with a spiritual teacher could be beneficial.

This knowledge, spiritual practices, and the integration of your own beliefs will help you achieve greater lunar harmony. You need to verify your beliefs about closeness, abandon them, and find new ones. Being thrown into the deep waters, far from the familiar world you know every day, you discover new levels of comfort and belonging. You feel a part of something you didn't feel in your daily environment. It's easier to build closeness with others and develop a sense of psychic comfort there. However, the journey alone won't do everything. Your subconsciousness and the emotions accumulated in it need exploration of various philosophies, beliefs, and listening to the voices of guides, spiritual teachers, and others. Be cautious of excessive dogmatism. Look for beliefs that promote your life comfort. (If it were, for example, Mars, they would have to promote courage, vitality, and proactivity). When you feel a lack of physical or mental comfort, immediately verify your beliefs. They define this area within you. Your beliefs can evolve throughout your life. This is normal!

TENTH ASTROLOGICAL HOUSE

ACHIEVEMENTS

"I ACHIEVE MY LIFE GOALS"

YOUR CAREER (& AMBITIONS)

"TIME TO ACHIEVE"

The Tenth House defines your relationship with the mother (or female authorities), government, superiors, society, and the public sphere. This House helps understand dimensions such as career, achievements, ambitions, public image, and reputation. It points to the zone of success, social status, and social media. It reveals the relationship with authorities and the government. The Tenth House can also be a path to achieving fame or gaining honors and public respect.

Tenth Sphere of Life

This House indicates our achievements, which result from ambition and perseverance in pursuing goals. Here, our honor matters, as well as how we present ourselves publicly to the world. It is the House of public life and success. You activate the energy of this House when you appear in public, such as giving a speech, recording a video on YouTube or Instagram, etc. This House is visible publicly and accessible to everyone. It represents your path to success, rewards, recognition, and honors. These are your achievements! You work with the energy of this House when you enter the zone of ambition, goals, career, and life mission. Every time you connect with your calling or try to build something in society that improves its functioning, the energy of this House emerges. Additionally, it is associated with your relationship with the mother, authorities, and people in high positions. These can be powerful and influential individuals.

Ruler of the 10th House

The planet ruling this house indicates your public image. Everyone sees how you express the energy of this planet. Your success, honors, achievements, promotions, and recognition by society depend on the level of engagement of the Ruler of the Tenth House. When you present yourself to the world, you integrate the energy of the Ruler. The same happens when you publish content online. The Ruler of this House brings a sense of fulfillment to your life if you act in alignment with it. This planet helps you achieve goals and fulfill your ambitions. This House shows how you contribute to society, and it is a real determinant of success. Issues with failure or a sense of failure and lack of progress are associated with this planet. The higher it vibrates, the better for you. You also expect more traits related to this planet and the Zodiac Sign it resides in from your mother. The characteristics you expect need to be integrated within yourself. The House occupied by this Ruler shows the path to your advancement, success, and fame. You use the resources of this House to fulfill your role in society, establish a higher status, improve your reputation, or fulfill your life mission. Your fame and success depend on how well you leverage the resources of this house.

Planets in the 10th House

The planet or planets located in this House use its resources. They leverage your image, success, and fame to achieve their goals. They utilize your relationship with your mother, reputation, and public life. In modern times, they often use social media or government institutions to satisfy their needs. This planet is visible to everyone, and its aura is your public image. Additionally, this planet influences your reputation, honor, and achievements both positively and negatively. Effective use of the energy of these planets can bring you fame, recognition, and is a crucial piece in the puzzle to fulfill your life mission and achieve success.

Let's assume that Mars rules this house. In that case...

Mars represents motivation, confidence, action, ego, desire, anger, and passion. Mars is about taking the next step towards a goal. When Mars rules the Tenth House, your ego and identity become your reputation. Your reputation is based on your individualism. It might be that for a long time in your life, you give away your power and adapt your identity like a chameleon just to gain admiration and a good reputation. As you become more bold and self-assured, your reputation and recognition grow. There is a clear correlation between your ego, willpower, motivation, and your reputation. People know you for who you are and the role you play. It is very visible, just like your anger, assertiveness, and desires. They are public commodities. Your identity, physical condition, and skillful assertiveness allow you to achieve more in life. Strong will and a healthy ego lead you to success. The vision of achievements and success motivates you. Having a strong, attractive, and athletic body motivates you. The internal fire and passion drive you to achieve more in life. These factors make you want to strive for something greater. Your actions are often focused on achievements (higher vibration) or reputation (lower vibration). Failures can frustrate you, and you might try to overly control your path to the goal. On the other hand, you could turn and consider these "failures" as milestones that toughen your inner warrior. Look at the correlation between success and your mother. In what way does her character, anger, and strength relate to it now? You resemble her in character.

When your character is vague, insensitive, unhappy, too possessive, overly dominant, or offensive, people will see it and judge. They will talk about it among themselves. Who you are radiates to the world around you. If you are negative, people will not appreciate and like you. If you care about your image, allow yourself to be who you are in your power. Be confident. Be bold. By overcoming your weaknesses, you make others turn to you for advice on the matter. Others then perceive you as a warrior, a strong personality, and a distinctive identity. For this to happen, you must first strengthen your will and the warrior within. Pay attention to how the issue of will, passion, motivation, and proper management of your vital energy helps you achieve success. Your identity is also your achievement and success. You forge it over the years, creating a stronger and stronger public personality. Courage and character help you climb the ladder of success. They ensure advancement. Perseverance, strength, and fierceness propel you forward. Your identity is your success, so you want to be associated with it. You want others to see you as a strong and passionate individual, full of motivation. You want to be successful. Your ambitions are also linked to becoming a stronger person who controls what other people think about them. On one hand, you have a strong character, and on the other, the ability to modulate it for the audience. The bolder you act and stand your ground, the faster your career gains momentum.

ASPIRATIONS

"I HAVE A VISION FOR THE FUTURE"

YOUR ASPIRATIONS (& FRIENDS)

"IT'S TIME TO STRIVE FOR HAPPINESS"

The Eleventh Astrological House describes your relationship with groups of people, friends, community members, fans, clubs, organisations, and associations. In this House, you strive to achieve your dreams and aspirations. Here, you seek help from people who share a common goal. This is where you find friends and investors. This is where you envision the path to happiness and look for people who will help you achieve that goal. In this house, you have the potential for wealth.

Eleventh Sphere of Life

The Eleventh House focuses on our aspirations and dreams that form our path to happiness. This house is related to building the path to happiness rather than the goal itself. It shows how you connect your creativity with others to create something greater. Here, you find people who support you, social circles, and groups united by a common ideology, ideals, or vision. This is also where you build friendships or packs of acquaintances. In this house, sudden turns of events may occur, influenced by Higher, Collective Consciousness, or Angels.

Interestingly, Vedic Astrology considers this house as the house of financial abundance, wealth, and sudden cash inflows. It is not directly related to income, earnings, or work but rather to achievements and accomplished goals. This house is where the Spirit places emphasis on material wealth for the last time before fully focusing on spiritual wealth.

Ruler of the 11th House

The planet that rules the Eleventh House is your true friend. It supports you on the path to happiness and defines the true motives behind the dreams you have. You feel that if you gain more energy from this planet, you will be happier. At the same time, you feel that it is distant, existing somewhere in the future. The more you implement this energy here and now, the more support you receive from friends, angels, and all beneficial energies appearing in your life. The ruler of this house pursues material success. This planet speaks about your aspirations, goals, and the envisioned future. The significance of this planet and the Zodiac Sign it's in show what you expect from friendships. Difficulties in achieving dreams or friendships trigger a reaction from the ruler. The house that the ruler occupies shows how this reaction looks and where it occurs. It reveals how you seek happiness and what resources you use to fulfill your dreams.

Planets in the 11th House

The planets that occupy this house make use of its resources (your friendships, social groups, wealth, aspirations, and achievements). These planets want to share their energy with other people, preferably those similar to you. They feel great in the company of friends, in teams, and groups. They love fan clubs and social gatherings. They enjoy it when friends support them. To integrate the energy of the planets occupying this house, group membership, friend support, and assistance from people who see your potential are important. These planets aim to achieve something special—something that you feel will make you happy and requires support from the external world, organizations, friends, or investors.

Let's assume that Jupiter rules this house. In that case...

Jupiter represents a higher purpose, expansion, growth, imagination, and creativity. Your aspirations are your growth. Your growth is your aspirations. Who you would like to be and the role you aspire to go far beyond who you currently are. Your dreams are grand, and your visions reach far. Because their realization requires a lot, there may be times when you lose faith. Some goals may seem too distant and, therefore, harder to achieve. With Jupiter as the ruler of this house, ambitions and dreams themselves are a source for your development. Having a vision gives you wings and motivates you to expand. This position requires setting smaller steps on the path to a bigger goal. Only in this way can you sustain enthusiasm and belief. This way, the feeling of development will accompany you all the time. Unfortunately, the chase for future dreams sometimes makes it difficult to see how much you have already developed today. Stop living in the future and start living the path to it. Joy and abundance are not somewhere far from you. They are right beside you if you learn to allow them now. Start noticing the favor of fate. Observe how much you already have now. Appreciate yourself and how far you have come. Since Jupiter rules your Eleventh House in this example, your dreams and belief are your friends. Your friends are your growth and belief. Through friendships, you develop faith and grow on many levels. This is the main purpose of creating friendships in your life. You seek friends who will help you grow.

When you find investors, they truly believe in you. Your friends, investors, and other wellmeaning people see your potential, which you might not even recognize in yourself. They help you see it. They assist you in finding the right perspective, meaning, and belief. They see that you deserve abundance. Why don't you see it? No matter how these people support you, it helps you spread your wings. The more publicly you showcase the resources you've gathered so far, the easier it will be for you to find more people willing to support you. Jupiter, as the ruler of the Eleventh House, makes you seek faith in groups united by a common passion. You may feel that you need friends more than other people. The future motivates you to chase your dreams. Instead of looking at the untapped potential or the length of the journey, focus on getting closer to your dreams every day, step by step. Celebrate your future and the possibilities it brings right now. More than others, you must approach life as if what you desire has already happened. Enthusiastic people impress you. You want to be like them. You want happiness, joy, and enthusiasm to be part of your dreams. You want to fulfill your dreams to prove to yourself that faith can move mountains. These dreams, by design, should show you the power of belief. It would be helpful if you believed deeply right now. To fulfill your dreams, working with Jupiter is crucial.

SECRETS

"I GO DEEPER IN ORDER TO..."

SPIRITUAL FREEDOM (& DEVOTION)

"TIME TO SURRENDER AND RELEASE"

Twelfth House defines The relationship with the unconscious, subconscious, soul, demons, healers, hidden enemies, inner shadow, and light. It is a very mysterious House that shows what we need to release and how to gradually return to Unity with the Divine Source. It is also the house of repaying karma from past lives and healing at the deepest spiritual levels, in order to return to Unity. This is where dreams, metaphysics, and meditation hold significance.

Twelfth Sphere of Life

This area of life is our confrontation with sorrow, suffering, and all kinds of difficulties. Here, we learn complete humility and spiritual service without seeking recognition. This is where we develop spiritual wealth and enlightenment. Here, we long for unity and merge with it. This sphere of life requires very deep spiritual work to release karma from past lives and get rid of long-hidden patterns in the unconscious. This is where we find our shadow, which causes self-sabotage. This is where we discover the karmic cause of this shadow. Until we see it, we can lead ourselves to selfdestruction through addictions, encounters with harmful people, and ending up in prison, hospital, or serious health problems because of them. All of this results from suppressed energy that we need to find release. Meditation, hypnosis, metaphysics, and expanding self-awareness are crucial. This House requires cleaning up your subconscious, imagination, and deep patterns, as they bring enemies and negative karmic situations. This is a very important house from a spiritual perspective!

Ruler of the 12th House

The planet ruling this House is your unconscious point, building karmic shadows. You often integrate it in a way that harms others, causing karmic problems. It contains your unconscious patterns that can lead to sabotage. Unconsciously, you sabotage the needs and goals of this planet. It attracts unpleasant situations that seem random at first glance. This planet operates beyond your consciousness, drawing you into various traps, all in order for you to discover deep patterns in your soul that come from past lives. These patterns can attract situations and people who are aggressively, toxically, or simply unfriendly towards you. The ruler of this House requires work with the subconscious, dreams, hypnosis, meditation, trance, regression, and more. Shamanic work can also be very helpful. You don't have executive power over you integrate planet, and unconsciously. The conscious integration of this ruler mainly occurs during special experiences.

These include dreams, deep shadow work, revelations, visions, and metaphysical experiences. They are often accompanied by sadness, a sense of loss, and the opening of deep wounds. Hidden emotions emerge during such experiences. This planet and the Zodiac Sign indicate the type of wounds and sensitive from Your suffering often results unconscious patterns of this planet. Recognize the cause-andeffect relationship, and you will find spiritual freedom, empathy, and reserves of compassion for others. The ruler of this House hides from you, and it's worth consciously seeking it. The House occupied by the ruler of the Twelfth House is where you most sabotage yourself and create injuries and enemies. In this area, people are least favorable to you. How you use the resources of the house occupied can lead to disappointments, setbacks, and sorrows. The more you uncover the mechanisms related to this, the easier it is to free yourself spiritually. The longer you ignore the House occupied by the ruler of the Twelfth House, the more mess you create in that area. You will be surprised when you finally look consciously at this place.

Planets in the 12th House

This planet or planets utilize the resources of this House, thus taking advantage of sorrows, unconscious patterns, shadows, collective unconscious, and isolation for their own purposes. They may sabotage themselves or others through this. There is a tendency for them to hide their true motives. They may be associated with demons and the necessity of work that allows them to grow vibrationally beyond their level (spiritually free themselves from their influences). These planets often cause the "you wished something for someone, and now you have it yourself" effect. This results from them projecting their own shadows onto the world. It's an irony of fate and an element of hypocrisy. This planet expresses itself secretly, in an obscure and indistinct way. Despite the feeling of liberation and release from some punishment, there is a sense of deep sadness accompanying it. This planet may create enemies due to its vibrational, unconscious approach. It demands isolation and spiritual work with higher energies, including dreams. It utilizes dreams, subconsciousness, and our unconscious inner self.

Let's assume that Saturn rules this house. In that case...

Saturn represents duties, maturity, challenges, morality, conscience, consequences, and karma. When this planet rules your Twelfth House, your unconscious mind is your responsibility. Your responsibility can be unconscious. You may have an illusory sense of responsibility while simultaneously sabotaging what should truly be important (for what you really are or should be responsible for). Unconsciously, you commit to additional tasks, which is a result of weak boundaries in the realm of responsibility. You need to learn to distinguish what is yours and what is someone else's responsibility. Others may cleverly shift a load of tasks onto you, and you forget to set boundaries. You may also illusorily create priorities, which is an unconscious mechanism of avoiding responsibility. These "priorities" actually sabotage you. Sometimes, you relinquish executive power and authority to your shadow, fears, or enemies (e.g., not wanting to do something, thinking it might make you enemies). You need to constantly remind yourself of what you are responsible for, where your moral boundaries lie, and what the proper priorities are. Despite attempts at discipline, you sometimes lose control over your structures. This happens in favour of unconscious sabotage. You may also oscillate between extremes of overly strong boundaries or their absence. In this way, you may discourage some people from interacting with you. Sometimes, you give authority to individuals who only worsen your unconscious programs. This exacerbates the sabotages within you.

You also sabotage your own authority. On the surface, you may know yourself and your power, understand your routines and discipline, but sometimes, you disrupt your own plans. You may deceive yourself regarding responsibility, thinking either that you are extremely irresponsible (when it's not true) or that you are fully responsible (while actually avoiding the right matters). You may also take responsibility for something you didn't do but convinced yourself it's your responsibility. There's also a tendency to misuse your authority, causing people to lose trust in you. You might too quickly recognize yourself as an authority even though you may lack the necessary training. With Saturn as the ruler of the Twelfth House, you tend to avoid responsibility, set improper priorities, and excessively involve yourself in matters that aren't yours. Such issues lead to disappointments, sorrows, and disillusionment. During these times, you may be overly critical of yourself, but it stems from the difficulty in grasping your unconscious patterns that pull the strings of these behaviors. You give too much power to your unconscious superego.
